*Below zero.

The official local forecast for to-day is fair, slightly warmer. For Tuesday, cloudy, warmer, with rain at night and on Wednesday.

Observer Hagen says: "Chicago is the dividing line to-day between fair and threatening weather. Eastward the weather is balmy and spring-like, while westward and northwestward it is abnormally warm, cloudy and threatening rain. This is due to a storm of great area now central in Kansas and Nebraska, and which will probably reach us Tuesday evening. The temperature is liable to reach 50 degrees on Tuesday and drop to 30 degrees Wednesday evening, and still lower on Thursday. There is a strong probability of snow on Xmas. The highest temperature on the government weather map this morning is 8 degrees below zero in Minnesota, while the highest is 60 degrees above in Texas. The highest here yesterday was 41 degrees. The lowest this morning was 31 degrees."

For Indiana, Ohio and Illinois—Fair and warmer, southerly winds to-day; increasing cloudiness and showers Tuesday.

For Michigan and Wisconsin—Increasing cloudiness with rain or snow on Tuesday; colder by Tuesday night; southerly winds; shifting to westerly.

SEN. PLUMB DEAD.

Apoplexy the Cause of the Demise.

A Long and Useful Career of Public Service

Brought to a Sudden and Unexpected End.

Brief Biographical Sketch of the Deceased.

The Body Embalmed Against the Wishes of the Senator's Wife, Who Was Fearful that Life Might Not Have Departed From the Body.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 21.—"Oh, my God, my head, my head, my head!" and Senator Preston B. Plumb, who, as a representative of the state of Kansas, in the United States senate continuously since 1876 has occupied a prominent place in the councils of the republican party, a few minutes later fell unconscious, never to regain knowledge of what was going on about him.

It was 6:45 o'clock Sunday morning when he uttered this exclamation. A little more than five hours later the broad-framed, powerful looking Kansas senator was stretched out dead in his modest apartments on Fourteenth street.

His physician, Dr. Phillip S. Wales; his clerk, B. W. Flenniken, and his landlord, Mr. Jennings, were with him at the end. His wife and two children are in Kansas. Death came from apoplexy, the result of exhaustion of the brain.

It was a clear case of overwork and inattention to the laws of nature. The senator has been known for years as the most pushing, energetic, hardworking senator of the senate.

A year ago he began to fail. His brain became affected, and throbbing headaches became more and more frequent. His physicians warned him that the continuance of his labors meant death, but he refused to heed their warning. He continued to work with the energy of a steam engine, and Sunday, when still apparently in full vigor and with many years of life before him, he died.

But recently he complained of persistent pains in his head, impairment of memory and growing inability to clothe his ideas in proper and appropriate words. The senator had been previously remarkably fluent of speech, and his words came so freely, copiously and rapidly that he was the terror of stenographers.

It was not until two weeks ago, however, that Dr. Phillip S. Wales called in and was asked for advice as to the trouble. The doctor, after a careful study of the case, informed the senator that his symptoms indicated apoplexy and that he must quit work and take a rest, but Mr. Plumb was incredulous and thought the doctor had become unduly alarmed.

He kept up his labors, except when severe headaches forced him temporarily to abandon his work. He had a desk in the front room of his apartments and another in his committee room at the capitol. He worked on his immense personal business in the morning and night, and after doing a hard day's work on public affairs at the capitol.

His eyes troubled him and a skillful oculist examined them. His kidneys were also examined by a specialist. Each of these persons reported that the trouble lay not in the eyes or kidneys, and by their report that there was some other organic trouble, confirmed the diagnosis of Dr. Wales.

A few days ago Senator Plumb went to Philadelphia with Senator Quay for the purpose of consulting Dr. Pepper. He returned to Washington Saturday night at 7 o'clock, complaining of a violent headache, but went to a dinner at Chamberlain's given by ex-Senator Mahone to a few friends.

It must have been 1 o'clock or later Sunday morning when he returned to his quarters, for his landlord, Mr. Linson D. Jennings, said that he did not retire until nearly 1 o'clock, and that the senator had not returned.

Shortly before 2 o'clock Mr. Jennings was awakened by a knock at his bedroom door. Senator Plumb told Mr. Jennings he was very sick and requested him to come down stairs and sit up with him. Mr. Jennings saw that the senator's condition was serious, and at 2 o'clock Dr. Wales was summoned.

The doctor alleviated the pain and administered the proper medicines. He stayed with Mr. Plumb from 2 until half-past 6 o'clock, and then left his patient sleeping quietly.

At a quarter to 7 o'clock Senator Plumb awoke, and with a spring bounded out of bed to a slop jar, and began to vomit. His head was aching violently. The vomiting ceased after a time. Then the senator tossed his hands to his head and exclaimed, "Oh, my God, my head, my head," the last words he ever uttered.

Mr. Jennings stroked his head to relieve the pain, and in a few minutes Mr. Plumb lapsed into slumber and later into unconsciousness.

About 10 o'clock Mr. B. W. Flenniken, clerk to the committee on public lands, of which Senator Plumb was chairman, and his private secretary for some years, called, as was his custom, to assist the senator with his correspondence. Mr. Flenniken noticed that he was breathing heavily and stentoriously.

Dr. Wales was again summoned. He saw at once that the patient had been stricken with apoplexy. Mr. Plumb was unconscious and his tongue was paralyzed. The doctor, Mr. Flenniken and Mr. Jennings remained with him until the end came, at 11:30.

Dr. Wales said that the immediate cause of death was apoplexy, brought on by fatty degeneration of the brain, brought on by overwork and fatigue. "It was a clear case of overwork," said the doctor. "If he had given up in all probability it would have been different."

The news of the sad event spread rapidly. Within an hour after Senator Plumb's death, Senator Peffer was at the side of his dead colleague. Sergeant-at-Arms Valentine and his deputy, Charles B. Reade, were promptly on hand and assumed the direction of the funeral arrangements. An undertaker was summoned and took charge of the remains. He proceeded at once to prepare the body for interment and in a short time completed the embalming process. His haste in this matter gave rise to a distressing incident. News of her husband's death had been telegraphed Mrs. Plumb, who is at Emporia, Ks., within a few minutes after it occurred. Just after the undertaker had embalmed the body, a telegram was received from one of the friends of the family at Emporia, directing that the remains be not embalmed.

Soon afterwards, but like the first, too late, came a second telegram explaining the direction. It stated that last summer Senator Plumb was for two or three hours in a state of suspended animation and to all appearances was dead. Having that crisis in mind, Mrs. Plumb did not wish the body embalmed until it was absolutely certain that her husband was dead.

The receipt of this telegram caused much unavailing regret. The undertaker, however, was positively of the opinion that there could be no reason to doubt the fact that death had occurred before he had undertaken the discharge of his functions, and in proof of his assertion, he said that in addition to the physician's statement to that effect, there was indisputable evidence of death in the fact that no blood flowed from the arteries when they were opened in the course of the embalming process. When the remains had been properly prepared, a guard of honor composed of employes of the United States senate, was detailed to watch over them until they are removed to the capitol.

The deceased senator leaves a wife and five children. Two daughters are now at Emporia with Mrs. Plumb. Two sons are at school in Pennsylvania, and a third is confined to a hospital in Philadelphia by a serious ailment.

Senator Plumb was born in Delaware county, O., October 12, 1837, so that he was in his 54th year at the time of his death. He was not a college graduate, but left the common schools for the printer's case, and in pursuance of his vocation as a journeyman printer, in 1856, in the bloody days of the history of the newly-organized territory of Kansas, walked into that territory, and with the vigor and indefatigable energy that has throughout his life been his chief characteristic, the young man at once plunged into the thick of hot political strife, which was then waging over the slavery question. He at once went to the front and was chosen a member of the Leavenworth constitutional convention of 1859. He was admitted to the bar in 1861, when the place of his adoption became a state of the union; served in the legislature in 1862, was chairman of the judiciary committee, and subsequently reporter of the supreme court. When the war broke out he entered the army as second lieutenant, in the Eleventh Kansas infantry, and served successively as captain, major and lieutenant-colonel of that regiment, and was commissioned a colonel of the same regiment in August, 1862.

After the war, Mr. Plumb, returning to Kansas, was elected a member and speaker of the Kansas house of representatives, and in 1876 was chosen United States senator to succeed James M. Harvey, republican. He took his seat in 1877 and has represented his state as a senator ever since that time. His term of office would have expired March 3, 1895.

Senator Plumb's social qualities were highly esteemed in Washington, and his presence was always appreciated at social gatherings and at the clubs of which he was a member. His interests were large—for Senator Plumb was a wealthy man, and in addition to his senatorial duties he was widely known in financial circles as an indefatigable promoter.

TO FILL PLUMB'S SEAT.

The Scramble for the Office Has Commenced.

Ingalls in No Way Can Break Into the Senate.

Gov. Humphrey Will Appoint a Man Who Will Not be a Candidate for Re-Election—Anthony in the Lead.

Topeka, Ks., Dec. 21.—Senator Plumb's death created a profound sensation here and has been the sole topic of conversation among the politicians. The hotel lobbies have been filled and every possible contingency discussed.

Those who know the governor best say he will be slow in making an appointment.

In no circumstances will he call an extra session of the legislature as it is overwhelmingly alliance. Mr. Plumb's death will seriously interfere with the policy which the republicans have been pursuing and it is almost certain to precipitate a quarrel among the leaders.

Nearly a score of possibilities have been mentioned about the hotel lobbies. Those most frequently mentioned are: Ex-Gov. George T. Anthony, ex-Congressman E. N. Morrill and Chief Justice Albert H. Horton.

It is stated in every large Kansas town that Humphrey himself wants the place and that he would not give it to any one who would be a candidate for re-election.

If this is true, Mr. Ingalls will not be considered.

The strongest possibility, in case Humphrey wants the place, is George T. Anthony, ex-governor, who is too old to make much of a fight for another election. He is spoken of seriously as the man.

THEY GOT HIS CASH.

Massillon, O., Dec. 21.—Harmon Shriver, the wealthiest German citizen, is $5,500 out. A pair of smooth-looking strangers encountered Mr. Shriver and proposed to buy his residence for the sum stated above. Mr. Shriver was approached by a man who represented himself as Mr. Gorman, a banker from Alliance. This occurred near where he lives, and while they were talking together a second man approached and produced three cards and proposed to bet that he could name a card that would win, and they worked the three-card monte racket.

BRUTAL EXHIBITION.

Pittsburg, Dec. 21.—Jerome Murray, weighing 137 pounds, and James McGarvey, 145 pounds, fought 54 rounds, London prize ring rules, with bare gloves, near Fairview, Monongahela county, W. Va. The fight lasted one hour and 21 minute. It was a slugging contest throughout, and while neither were sciencedd, they were gluttons for punishment. The gamest man, Murray, won the fight. The fight was witnessed by 40 Pittsburg politicians and attorneys. The principals were also from Pittsburg. The purse was $100.

THE CHEROKEE STRIP.

Muskogee, I. T., Dec. 21.—Word has been received that the Cherokee council and the United States commission have agreed upon the sale and purchase of the Cherokee strip for the consideration of $9,000,000.

THE GRANT MONUMENT.

Trouble Among the Association Members.

What Little Money Comes In is Paid Out to the Secretary as His Salary.

New York, Dec. 21.—The fact was made public yesterday that Hamilton Fish resigned as vice president of the Grant Monument association a year ago. Inability to attend the meetings is given as the cause.

Serious trouble prevails among the members of the association. Richard T. Greener, the secretary, it is said, will have to go. He has been receiving a salary and the idea is to select a secretary who will do the work gratuitously.

A meeting will be held to-day at which a resolution will be offered to appoint a committee on ways and means. Very little money has been received during the past three months.

CUYAHOGA IS FOR JOHN.

Sherman Will Get the Cleveland Delegation.

Not a Vote to Go to the Cincinnati Politician.

Sherman Stock Took a Great Boom on the Arrival of the Members From the Northern Lake County.

Columbus, Dec. 21.—The Sherman boom partook of a sudden and mighty expansion when Messrs. Clark, Gallagher, Doty and Block, of the Cuyahoga county house delegation, came down from the Forest City.

These gentlemen are all young and vigorous republicans and they are all enthusiasts for the great American who will continue for several years to come to represent Ohio in the superior legislative body of the nation.

The stale accusation is often made that none but the old, worn-out-hacks of the republican party are interested in the re-election of Mr. Sherman.

The lively young fellows that came down from Cleveland like a fresh breeze from their own breezy Lake Erie, furnished abundant proof that accusation is false.

These gentlemen are not only Shermanites, but they are red hot Shermanites, too. They are uproariously for Sherman. They believe in Sherman and hurrah for him, figuratively speaking, with an earnestness that can only come from the highest regard. These ebullient young men fairly boil and bubble Sherman enthusiasm and spread it about them.

Every one of the four gentlemen was asked this question: Will Foraker get any votes from the Cuyahoga county delegation? and every one answered no.

Mr. Gallagher, who is secretary of the organization that has thus early been made by the representatives from Cuyahoga, submitted to a formal interview on the subject and talked thus:

"The claim is made, repeatedly, that Gov. Foraker will get four votes from the Cuyahoga county members. I know that he will not get a single vote from the house members, and I am quite sure that he will not get one from the senators. Mr. Pudney, of our house delegation, who was one of the prominent members of the last legislature and who is a gentleman of conservative thought and action, has been slow to declare himself as to his intention, but he has said that he will be guided by the sentiment of his constituents, and that means that he will vote for Sherman."

"The Sherman sentiment prevails in Cleveland, does it?" was asked of Mr. Gallagher.

"Most assuredly. Ten republicans are for Sherman to one who is for Foraker—I mean republicans who are recognized republicans and who support the republican ticket. Take our people as a whole, irrespective of party affiliations, and a large majority of them are for Sherman as against Foraker for the United States senate. We of the Cuyahoga county delegation have been freely misrepresented by the Foraker people, and I am getting tired of it. Just put it down as coming from me that we are for Sherman."

It looks as though the republican caucus at which the senatorial question will be settled will be an open one. A good many members have been in the city during the week, and with a singular unanimity all those who intend to support Mr. Sherman announced their preference for an open caucus. There is a disposition to compel every man to place himself on record, something which no one ought to be afraid or ashamed to do. Those who have so far expressed themselves as opposed to an open caucus are members who are known Foraker men.

The Foraker managers are going to have trouble in holding all of their men. The expression of public sentiment, which is overwhelmingly for Sherman, is affecting some of them, and with the voices of their constituents ringing in their ears some of those who have permitted themselves to be enrolled among the supporters of Gov. Foraker are becoming shaky.

The people of Muskingum county will hardly believe that their representative is going to vote for Gov. Foraker, notwithstanding the well known fact that a great majority of the republicans of the county want him to vote for Sherman, and it has been demonstrated that the republicans of Wood county, whose representative, Mr. James, has expressed a willingness to vote for Foraker, want him to vote for Sherman.

A Perrysburg correspondent writes that nine-tenths of the republicans of that village want John Sherman to be re-elected; a Henry township correspondent writes that a majority of the republicans of that township want Sherman returned; a Liberty township correspondent sends in word that "all his neighborhood are for Sherman," and numbers of leading republicans from all parts of the country send in letters stating reasons why they want Sherman to be re-elected.

YOUNG FIELD'S CONDITION.

He Refuses to Eat and Continues to Grow Worse.

His Physicians Claim that Death Will Soon Relieve the Broker From Further Earthly Trouble.

New York, Dec. 21.—Edward M. Field's condition continues to grow worse and the two physicians who called on him yesterday said that death would probably relieve the broker of his troubles before another week goes by. Field still refuses to eat and is gradually growing weaker.

Cyrus W. Field, father of the prisoner, continues to improve. His doctor now thinks Mr. Field will recover.

RAN INTO A LANDSLIDE.

Narrow Escape of Passengers on a Lehigh Train.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Dec. 21.—Passenger train No. 8 on the Lehigh Valley railroad ran into a landslide at Rockport this morning.

Michael Lavelle, an engineer on the Central railroad, of New Jersey, who was riding in the cab, was killed.

The engineer in charge escaped.

The passengers were badly shaken up and some slightly bruised.

CRIMINAL LIBEL.

Columbus, O., Dec. 21.—F. W. Lovering, editor of the Sunday World, has been arrested on a warrant charging him with criminal libel against J. D. Harris.

Lovering's paper was one of the two that engaged in the controversy that led up to the terrible tragedy of last March.

Harris is a colleague of the Elliotts, and the affair is a revival of the old feud.

WAS IT SUICIDE?

Saratoga, N. Y., Dec. 21.—At Porters Corners, town of Greenfield, Saratoga county, late on Saturday afternoon, Beecher LaPoint, 14 years old, was found hanging in his father's barn. A short time before he was playing about the premises. He was the son of Frank LaPoint, of the firm of Spaulding & LaPoint.

A CLOSE CALL.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Dec. 21.—The hotel owned by Thomas Roach, and three dwelling houses at Sugar Notch were burned this morning. Loss $16,000. The guests of the hotel escaped in their night clothes.

MILLS WILL NOT SERVE.

He Refuses a Place on the Ways and Means Committee.

Washington, Dec. 21.—Mr. Mills has been offered second place on the committee on ways and means, together with the chairmanship of another committee, and has declined to accept such assignment.

The tender was made in a letter from Speaker Crisp.

In the answer to the proposition Mr. Mills said that he had served on the committee on ways and means for 10 years, and its chairman in the Fiftieth congress, and that if any reasons existed why he should not be at the head of the committee the same reasons would prevent his [illegible] place on the committee.

PRACTICE WHAT YOU PREACH.

London, Dec. 21.—Queen Victoria recently expressed sympathy with the movement on foot tending toward abolishing the sport of rabbit coursing. This has caused the Pall Mall Gazette to remark that her majesty should give evidence of the sincerity of her sympathy for the rabbits by withdrawing her support of the royal buckhounds.

MUST PAY THE DUTY.

Washington, Dec. 21.—The treasury department has decided that Messrs. Mitalovitch, Fletcher & Co., of Cincinnati, must pay $7,500 duty on the excess of spirits on certain preserved cherries exported by them, and which they now desire to import.

MADE A CLEVER HAUL.

Two Men Conspire to Beat a Bank.

A Clever Scheme by Which Thirteen Thousand Dollars Was Abstracted From the Strong Box.

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 21.—The banking firm of McManus & Sons, of Chihuahua, Mexico, was robbed of $13,500 Saturday.

H. Charlton, the telegraph operator in the town, and a man named Silverberg were concerned in the job.

The firm, early Saturday morning, received a telegram ordering them to pay to H. Silverberg $13,500. It was signed by the Merchants National bank of St. Louis.

McManus & Sons refused to pay Silverberg the money until they had telegraphed the St. Louis bank about it.

In the course of a few hours an answer was returned that it was all right. Charlton had destroyed the banker's telegram and waited a reasonable time when he answered the message himself.

Silverberg secured the money and divided with Charlton. Both then left town. Silverberg was arrested a short time afterwards but Charlton has thus far eluded the police.

BRAZILIAN CONGRESS.

President Peixotto Has Delivered His Annual Address.

Rio Janeiro, Dec. 21.—Congress has re-assembled. President Peixotto in his message said that the people of Brazil had, during the events of November 23, shown their virility and a jealous regard for their national liberties, which were threatened by Marshal De Fonseca.

Continuing, President Peixotto said that the present duty of congress was to deal with the existing commercial crisis by taking immediate steps to organize the banking system of Brazil.

A MURDEROUS PLOT.

A Mob Made Up of Insane Patients.

Worthington Was to Lead Them in an Attempt to Break Out of the College Hill Sanitarium.

Cincinnati, Dec. 21.—It has leaked out that a short time before George W. Worthington committed suicide on College Hill a plot was discovered to kill the attendants at the sanitarium and enable some of the inmates to escape.

It is said that young Worthington was the head leader in the plot, and the scheme failed because one of the patients at the institution gave the thing away.

Mr. Worthington was so violently insane that a strict watch had to be kept on him to prevent his doing injury to others as well as himself.

He was very anxious to obtain his liberty, and set about securing his deliverance with all the devilish cunning for which the insane are noted.

He induced several others to agree to go in with him and "do up the attendants," which meant they were to be overpowered, and, if necessary, murdered.

When the terrible matter was brought to the attention of the officials of the sanitarium they redoubled their vigilance, and none of the unfortunate conspirators were enabled to carry their awful plan into execution.

It is said that Mr. Worthington, who a few days later threw himself under a railroad train on College Hill road, was very much depressed on account of being restrained of his liberty, and the failure of the plot had something to do with his suicide.

Of course, when in his right mind there was no more honorable, amiable and loyable man than George Worthington, but his insanity seemed to change his whole nature.

The plot was not made known to any one about the premises, and none of the guards or inmates knew how close they came to being put in deadly peril.

NEWSPAPER CHANGE.

The Tiffin Tribune Placed in New Hands.

Tiffin, O., Dec. 21.—The firm of Locke & Bro., editors and proprietors of the Daily and Weekly Tribune, the official organ of the republicans of Seneca county, was dissolved Saturday by the purchase of the interest of Mrs. Amelia Locke, widow of Chas. N. Locke, of Findlay. The new member of the firm is the son of Otis T. Locke, and for a year past has acted as city editor of the paper.

TALKING FOR EFFECT.

Dr. Keeley and His Cure For Drunkenness.

He Won't Give His Secret Away for Fear Liquor Dealers Would Use It to Sober Up Patrons.

Chicago, Dec. 21.—In an address delivered at the Auditorium last evening under the auspices of the Chicago Press club, Dr. Leslie E. Keeley, discoverer of the famous remedy for the alcohol habit, made clear why he so steadfastly refused to give up the secret of the cure to the public.

Dr. Keeley was introduced by the Hon. Luther Laflin Mills as one who had brought hope to the disheartened and as a benefactor to his race. In his address Dr. Keeley said his remedy cured 95 per cent. of those treated. The reason he did not make his secret public was because he was afraid that it would soon become a soothing up process instead of a cure; that it would be used by liquor dealers themselves to brace their patrons up after a prolonged spree only to get into condition for another debauch. Under such circumstances the doctor said, to give the cure to the public would be to destroy its efficiency.

TOLEDO IN THE SIXTH

With Three Thousand Republican Majority.

The Brethren Will Please Scramble for Office.

Fulton, Lucas and Wood Counties to be Placed Together by the Republican Gerrymander Soon to be Enacted.

Zanesville, Dec. 21.—Judge M. M. Granger and Col. G. D. Munson have completed a congressional redistricting scheme. They have consumed considerable time and care in preparing it and have it photographed and plates ordered.

Both of these gentlemen are republicans of state reputation, Judge Granger having been on the supreme bench, and they undertook the work at the solicitation of republican leaders from different sections of the state.

Under their apportionment the republicans are given fifteen congressmen out of the twenty-one. The districts are as follows:

First and second—Hamilton county; population 187,286 each.
Third—Butler, Preble and Montgomery; population 172,870.
Fourth—Darke, Shelby, Mercer, Auglaize and Allen; population 163,632.
Fifth—Van Wert, Putnam, Paulding, Henry, Williams and Defiance; population 161,473.
Sixth—Fulton, Lucas and Wood; population 168,711.
Seventh—Hancock, Wyandot, Hardin, Marion, Logan and Champaign; population 172,317.
Eighth—Miami, Clark, Madison, Greene and Fayette; population 164,217.
Ninth—Warren, Clinton, Clermont, Highland, Brown and Adams; population 168,301.
Tenth—Ross, Pike, Scioto, Jackson, Lawrence and Gallia; population 187,282.
Eleventh—Pickaway, Fairfield, Licking, Perry, Hocking and Vinton; population 174,031.
Twelfth—Union, Delaware, Morrow and Franklin; population 192,256.
Thirteenth—Ottawa, Sandusky, Crawford, Seneca and Richland; population 163,459.
Fourteenth—Erie, Lorain, Medina, Summit and Huron; population 103,539.
Fifteenth—Ashland, Wayne, Holmes, Tuscarawas, Coshocton and Knox; population 183,268.
Sixteenth—Muskingum, Guernsey, Belmont and Jefferson; population 176,693.
Seventeenth—Meigs, Athens, Morgan, Noble, Monroe and Washington; population 172,458.
Eighteenth—Stark, Columbiana, Carroll and Harrison; population 181,595.
Nineteenth—Ashtabula, Trumbull, Portage and Mahoning; population 169,875.
Twentieth and twenty-first—Cuyahoga, Lake and Geauga; population 170,877 each.

Taking the vote for governor this year as a basis the majorities would be as follows:

First and second—Republican majority in both, 5,800.
Third—Democratic, 3,500.
Fourth—Democratic, 5,500.
Fifth—Democratic, 3,000.
Sixth—Republican, 3,000.
Seventh—Republican, 1,600.
Eighth—Republican, 4,000.
Ninth—Republican, 600.
Tenth—Republican, 4,000.
Eleventh—Democratic, 3,700.
Twelfth—Republican, 700.
Thirteenth—Democratic, 4,000.
Fourteenth—Republican, 4,000.
Fifteenth—Democratic, 4,000.
Sixteenth—Republican, 3,000.
Seventeenth—Republican, 2,000.
Eighteenth—Republican, 3,000.
Nineteenth—Republican, 7,500.
Twentieth and twenty-first—Republican majority in both, 4,300.

OVERMAN IN CLEVELAND.

He Claims to be Able to Clear His Skirts.

Looking Up Evidence for His Defense.

He Denies that He Was Placed Under Arrest and Is at a Loss to Account for the Charges Against Him.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 21.—Major L. Cooper Overman, who is charged with irregularities in connection with his office while United States engineer at this port, is in the city.

Major Overman remained in the hotel all day, and last evening he was seen by a reporter. When asked if he had any statement to make regarding the charges made against him, he said:

"I came to Cleveland by permission of the secretary of war, and I shall remain here for several days. I came for the purpose of looking over my papers to collect evidence for my defense. I have full authority to do this, and when it is completed I can either take or send it to Washington. I am allowed every liberty in the matter."

"What are the charges against you?" was asked.

"No specific charges have been presented. I understand that I am charged in a general way with irregularities in connection with the conduct of my office."

"Did you know of these charges when you were in Cleveland a short time ago?"

"No, sir. I never heard of them until after the report was sent out from Washington by wire. On the afternoon of that day I received an official communication from the chief of my department, in which he intimated that something was wrong.

"That evening I called to see him, but he refused me an audience. He was evidently angry. His anger was caused by the report, and the fact that I had made an effort to remain in Cleveland. I had been here for some time, and I desired to stay longer. The investigation into my affairs here was made without my knowledge. I left the office, and my papers and accounts were taken possession of."

"To what do you attribute the charges?"

"I evidently have some enemies who desire to cause me trouble. I will collect my evidence and make up a statement of my defense here, and when that is made known I feel sure that it will throw a different light on the matter. It is a pleasure to me to have the liberty to do this, and I have no fear of the result."

Major Overman said he desired to correct the published statement that he had been ordered to Fort McHenry under arrest, after the charges were preferred. "I was not under arrest at any time," he said. "I was ordered to report at Fort McHenry, and I did so. I was not under restraint, and spent the greater part of my time at a hotel in Baltimore." The major feels keenly the position in which he is placed, but is confident that he will be able to clear himself from all blame.

PROBLEMS IN SOCIOLOGY.

What Life In a Great City Brings Out.

Crusade Against Individual Teachers for Chinese.

Dagos Who Go Abroad Every Winter and Return in the Spring—An Anarchist in the Pulpit of the Church.

New York, Dec. 21.—The Italian immigrant who labors industriously with pick and shovel nine months in the year for scanty wages is your true aristocrat.

He spends his winters abroad and his cheeks are fanned by the balmy breezes that Latin poets invariably sing about when they have nothing else to do.

Two thousand laborers left Hoboken by the Bremen line steamer Wora for Genoa when it last sailed. They declare that the trip saves them money, as they can live so much cheaper in Italy than they can here that it does not pay them to remain after work has been suspended for the winter. They will all return in the spring.

For many years steerage room on the big Atlantic liners was dead capital on return trips, but to-day it is no small item in the revenue of the ocean carrying trade. It costs less to buy a ticket from here to Genoa than it does to buy a ticket from here to Springfield, Mo., for instance; and once in the domain of King Humbert the living expenses of a typical dago immigrant do not represent for the winter more than the returns for two weeks of industrious toil on this side.

The Chinese.

The slant-eyed Celestial is becoming a problem in the sociology of the metropolis, and interest in him just now does not arise from his disposition to underbid American workingmen, either, but rather from his propensity to hypnotize, with the subtle influence of his Oriental blood, the young lady teachers in American Sunday schools.

It is not drawing it too strong to say that the American Sunday school boy is jealous of John, and it is safe to prophesy that the local press is moulding a public opinion that will force John to draw his spiritual inspiration from a male Sunday school teacher, which will be equivalent, cynics say, to forcing him out of the sanctuary into the fantan dives that infect Mott street.

The Evening Sun takes hold of the case, and, without mincing a solitary word, recommends drastic treatment. It says:

"In the so-called religious movement are to be found many fanatics. These behave themselves perhaps not altogether in a manner calculated to give them a reputation for wisdom. But their experiences are harmless, both to themselves and to the community. It is far otherwise with those who degrade themselves by becoming the individual teachers of individual Chinese. They are led to this course too often by the promptings of weak mothers and brainless clergymen. It is not the fault of either of these classes; they know no better, and no one can ever teach them. But, as said before, it is a case that demands the interference of fathers and brothers.

"Men who are true men will understand this. It is not necessary or even expedient that women and clergymen of a certain sort should ever be enlightened. It would be an abuse of the powers of legislation to pass any law prohibiting this practice. But the man who has a due and proper respect for the sanctity of his home will cut off the supplies from any clergyman who so far forgets himself and the duties which he owes to the members of his congregation as to run a Chinese Sunday school in which each Chinese has one innocent and thoughtless girl for a teacher."

Canine Cutlets.

How long will it be before canine cutlets will be a part of the regular menu in hospitals where pulmonary diseases are specially treated? A New York woman acknowledges that she has fed her husband on dog meat for months and effected a complete cure, the good man believing the while that the wife had discovered a new and more palatable way of preparing mutton.

This woman is Mrs. Louise Schwartz, of 58 East Ninth street. This was thirty-four years ago, and the husband died without learning of the deception his wife had practiced on him, but he lived many years, and was finally carried away by a trouble that did not affect the lungs at all. But a Brooklyn German has gone a step farther, he sells essence of dog, or perhaps it would be more proper to say extract of dog, at $1 a bottle having rendered it from the carcass. If this demand for dog meat has bulled the bologna sausage market I have not heard of the fact.

Old Claims in New York.

The number of people who claim a slice of Manhattan Island by virtue of relationship to some remote forefather is limited only by the number of New Yorkers of Colonial pedigree now on earth.

In the absence of a forefather, a forenuncle is worked for all he is worth, and he is generally charged with being worth a good deal.

Thomas Dongan was governor of the colony of New York once and his heirs are preparing to bring sensational suits, they say, to test the title of the Vanderbilts and Astors to acres of ground. They claim also that they own the City Hall property and sundry other eligible sites. Dongan was a bachelor and was the only member of his family who ever came to America until after his death.

The decendants of Dongan's brothers and sisters are now widely scattered and if each of them contributes say $5 to the prosecution of the claim some lawyer will probably bless the day that Thos. Dongan was made governor of the colony of New York.

Is He An Anarchist, Too?

On Thanksgiving Day Rev. M. K. Peters of this city said in a sermon; "At present monopolists control the price of everything, even what we drink and wear. We should have laws to control this. The crash will come, and come soon. Society will cry vengeance, and dynamite will yet shake this nation to its center. We need laws to defend the poor man against the oppression of the rich."

Whereupon the Twentieth Century is moved to say: "As this language is quite as revolutionary as any that is likely to be heard in an anarchist meeting, the question arises why it should not be proper for the police to visit Mr. Peters' church and compel him to hoist the American flag in his pulp..."

A FEMALE CRANK

Exhorts the Passers-by to "Come to the Lord."

Bridget Hickey Locked Up in New York Until the Question of Her Sanity Can be Settled.

New York, Dec. 21.—A woman stood in front of the Broadway tabernacle at thirty-fourth street yesterday morning and vehemently exhorted passers-by to "come to the Lord." She attracted a crowd, and was haranguing them in a loud voice when a policeman arrested her. She was taken to the Jefferson market police court, where she gave the name of Bridget Hickey, of 124 West Twenty-first street, and was committed by Justice Kelly for examination as to her sanity.

The woman had in her pocket letters recommending her as a cook, signed by David Dudley Field and Cornelius Vanderbilt, and other well known citizens. One of the latter said to a reporter that the woman was a good cook, but had frequent spells of dementia and could not keep a place long.

IS BUILDING A MACHINE.

President Harrison Taking a New Tack.

He Will Have None but Political Workers.

Dignity and Fitness for Office Are Things of the Past so far as This Administration is Concerned.

Washington, Dec. 21.—The appointment of Stephen B. Elkins to a place in the cabinet is accepted on all sides as a distinct declaration on the president's part of his intention to be aggressive in politics from now on.

It marks—as the Foster appointment marked—a radical departure from the policy with which the president inaugurated his administration. He appeared at that time to flout the suggestion of surrounding himself with sturdy and capable machine men.

The managers of his party objected to Noble, to Miller, to Windom and to Proctor, on the ground that, politically considered, they were non-producers. They had nothing to exchange or to promise for such recognition.

But the president insisted on taking them, and made several of the more practical leaders of his party angry by announcing that men should not be selected for cabinet places upon any other ground than the possession of the proper qualifications for the duties imposed.

When Mr. Windom died the party managers returned to the attack. They told the president plainly that his cabinet greatly needed strengthening on practical political lines, and they urged that the new man should have not only financial ability but the capacity to bring the treasury department, with its enormous patronage, into close touch with the every-day interests of the party.

They carried the day, for Charles Foster came up to their highest measure of a useful man for office, and they heralded his appointment as a change of policy on the president's part.

These same men have won again. They regard Mr. Elkins as a man of the Foster type, who will reinforce Foster in the "fine work" capable of being done for the party from the vantage ground of the cabinet. The president, they hold, has made it plain now not only that he wants another term but that he appreciates some of the great difficulties in the way of his getting it. First of all he needs a powerful machine, and the machine men now feel that he has set earnestly to work to construct one.

In proportion, however, as the Elkins appointment is acceptable to the machine republicans it is objectionable to those who had built higher hopes of the president. It is regarded by this latter class as a palpable bid for questionable support in next year's campaign, and likely, because of that fact, to offend men of independence and conscience in the country.

West Virginia democrats are not afraid that Elkins will be able to revolutionize their state. They declare that he does not possess the influence that Gen. Goff exercised there. Goff, being a bona fide resident of the state, was a strong man in the political field. Elkins, on the other hand, is a sort of fancy resident—has a big house, principally for summer use, and spends the greater part of his time in New York. West Virginians do not feel towards him as they do towards Gen. Goff.

WHAT TO EAT

IS A QUESTION AFFECTING THE HEALTH OF MANY PEOPLE.

The Science of Dieting Is a Wonderful Factor In Curing Many Dangerous and Distressing Diseases.

Inasmuch as eating is the universal necessity affecting the life of the human race, it would seem strange that so little attention has been given to the question of what to eat in certain conditions of health. It is not so surprising that the general public, busy with the daily routine of life, have neglected to solve the question of Diet. The fact, however, that regular physicians, entrusted with precious human life, have failed to study and master the science of what to eat in cases of distressing and dangerous diseases is not only a surprise but astonishment to the thinking individual.

There can be no question but that hundreds of precious and useful lives have been cut off or made miserable by the failure of the attending physician to prescribe the proper articles of diet and explain the scientific process of cooking them. The prescribing of proper food is fully as important as medicine. Especially is this true in cases of wasting sickness and stubborn chronic diseases such as dyspepsia, nervous prostration, skin and blood diseases, throat and lung troubles, dizzy and fainting spells, also heart troubles which are frequently produced by the formation of poisonous gases in the stomach. These gases, generated by eating improper articles of food, often distend the stomach in such a way as to interfere with the action of the heart. It is this condition that often causes many people to awaken suddenly at night or to be seized during the day with a sinking sensation as if dying. Many deaths attributed to organic heart disease are the result of diseased stomachs and other dangerous complications arising from improper eating and drinking.

In the hospitals and at all the famous mineral springs of Europe the question of diet is playing a very important part in the remarkable cures now being effected. The idea that chronic stomach disease of long standing and many other consequent ailments can be cured by medicine while the abuse that caused the disease is continued, is too foolish to be discussed. Yet this is exactly what thousands of doctors are doing who lack either time or inclination to study the science of Diet. Not only is it necessary to prescribe certain food that will agree with the patient, but also such as will act in harmony with the medicine prescribed. Both medicine and food must have a proper affinity in order that they may be assimilated by the system.

It is to the mastery of this intricate question of DIET and specific stomach and other remedies that Dr. Kalkhoff, the European Specialist, at 505 and 507 Summit street, between Oak and Orange, has devoted the greater part of his life. His preparation of DIET charts of what to eat and drink, and his own specific remedies for each of his patients after an exhaustive diagnosis, is the secret of the wonderful success which has attended his treatment of stubborn, chronic and dangerous diseases. Many prominent business and professional men of Toledo as well as from all parts of the country are on his list of remarkable cures. The people of this country are to be congratulated upon the fact that they now have among them one physician that not only has an exhaustive knowledge of medical and surgical science, but also of all the laws of life.

M'GREW CALLED DOWN.

His Constituents Make a Formal Demand

That He Vote for Sherman for Senator.

The Foraker Leader in the House of Representatives is Between the Devil and the Deep, Deep Sea.

Columbus, Dec. 21.—(Special)—There is panic in the ranks of the Forakerites today, and there is a chance that Griffin may again be taken up for speaker of the house.

All this comes about because the Forakerites have come to the conclusion that McGrew cannot deliver the goods he has bargained to turn over.

The trouble is all caused by the fact that the Clark county central republican committee has passed a resolution calling on McGrew to vote for Sherman. The resolution read:

"Whereas, The sentiment of the republican voters of Clark county, Ohio, is overwhelming, namely three to one, in favor of the return of John Sherman to the senate; and

"Whereas, Messrs. McGrew and Rawlings were elected with the understanding of the former that they would respect the wishes of the majority of the republicans of the county in the choice for senator; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That they be requested to cast their votes for John Sherman for senator."

McGrew is in the forefront of the Foraker shouters. He is a son-in-law of Gen. Bushnell, the manufacturer, of Springfield, who was chairman of the state central committee during the Foraker gubernatorial campaign four years ago when Foraker was elected, and who is now doing all in his power to send Foraker to the senate.

Another bomb was burst in the Foraker camp when Hon. Elias D. Harlan, of Clinton, who has been paraded as for Foraker, came squarely out and said he would vote for Sherman.

Representative Adams, of Muskingum, who was coaxed into an expression for Foraker, finds himself in very hot water.

Nearly four-fifths of the republicans of Muskingum county desire the re-election of Sherman. In his own town of Dresden 91 of 96 republican voters have signed a request asking him to recall his lasty declaration.

More than two-thirds of the county, township and school district committees demand that he support Sherman.

The majority of the delegates to the convention which nominated him emphasize this request, and even his closest friends and neighbors are pointing out to him the seriousness of his blunder. It is at least apparent to him now that any coterie of bland, smiling and flattering political bosses in a Columbus hotel cannot satisfy the people who elected him. They consider his course a betrayal of the best interests of the party, local, state and national, and, as Mr. Adams is an honest man, however misguided, it is not improbable that he will change his mind, and vote as his constituents earnestly and properly demand.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

A Week of Melodrama at the People's—Other Attractions.

Joseph J. Dowling and Sadie Hasson open a week's engagement at the People's theater to-night in the Red Spider. Commencing Thursday the same company will put on the old favorite melodrama, Nobody's Claim. The Cincinnati Enquirer speaks of them as follows:

"J. J. Dowling and Sadie Hasson, supported by an exceptionally fine company, appeared at this popular house last night, in The Red Spider, for the first time in this city, and scored an immense success. The play, although of the Wild West order, possesses none of the blood-curdling sensations so common to productions of this class. The scenery incidental to the play is splendid, and the specialties far above the average. Few better productions of the kind have ever been in this city, and the company is deserving of packed houses the remainder of the week."

The Week at Wheeler's.

Ida Van Cortland, in Lucretia Borgia, will be the Christmas attraction at the opera house with reduced prices. She will give two performances during the day.

WILL LINCOLN RETIRE?

The Resignation Rumor Once More.

London, Dec. 21.—Minister Lincoln arrived in London last week from his continental tour. There is reason to believe that his resignation will be sent to President Harrison in a few days. Minister Lincoln is in the best of health and spirits.

Washington, Dec. 21.—Nothing definite can be got here in regard to Minister Lincoln's resignation, as everybody connected with the administration professes ignorance.

It has been the understanding, though, that the minister might not serve his term out. More than a year ago, when his retirement might have embarrassed the president, Mr. Lincoln came to Washington, and the statement was then made that his resignation, if it came, would not be until the president was ready to receive it.

The talk has been that the minister did not like London, but was willing to take his old post as secretary of war if it should be offered him.

Gen. Harrison, however, preferred that Mr. Lincoln should remain in London. It is stated that the health of his family has not been good, and that was the reason for his desire to return to the United States. Ex-Senator Evarts would be glad to succeed him.

SENSATION HUNTERS

Furnish a Batch of Chilian Misinformation.

No Truth in the Report that the United States Legation Was in Danger of Being Mobbed.

Chicago, Dec. 21.—A special to the Tribune from Washington says: There is no truth in the report that the cipher dispatch recently received by the state department from Minister Egan showed the legation in Santiago to be in immediate danger from a Chilian mob.

The cablegram was received December 17. It related to the refugees who are sheltered in the legation, but there was no apprehension of personal violence.

The refugees will not be delivered to the Chilian authorities unless their safety is assured. These have been the instructions from the state department to Minister Egan from the beginning and there will be no change of policy.

Remains of Senator Plumb Placed on the Train

And the Long and Sad Journey Commenced.

The Closing Scenes in the Career of an Honored Senator in Washington Strikingly Fitting to His Characteristics.

Washington, Dec. 21.—A cloudy, gloomy atmospere, with every appearance of coming snow, marked the funeral day of the late Senator Plumb, but the weather was not more gloomy than the faces of those who witnessed the last ceremonies over the remains of the popular Kansan in the chamber where his brilliancy and untiring energy brought him into so much prominence.

Quite a crowd had gathered about the business like residence, 612 Fourteenth St., where the dead senator had his apartments, when, at 10 o'clock this morning, the remains were taken to the capitol. There were no ceremonies at the house and the removal was conducted in a quiet and unostentatious manner, quite in accord with the modest and simple ideas of the deceased statesman.

Those who saw the the little procession wend its way down Fourteenth street and thence up Pennsylvania avenue to the capitol, were enabled to guess whose funeral it was only by the appearance of the brass-buttoned captol policemen who acted as pall-bearers.

Preceded by one carriage, containing Mr. Valentine, the sergeant-at-arms of the senate, and flanked on either side by the police, the hearse holding the body was driven slowly along the busy avenue, filled with Christmas shoppers, up Capitol Hill, to the senate wing of the big building.

Here the coffin was taken from the hearse and carried by the pall-bearers through the dim corridors to the marble room of the senate.

The body reposed in the marble room under guard of capitol police until shortly before 1:30 p. m., when it was conveyed to the senate chamber. The face was not uncovered during that time and few people were admitted.

The casket was covered with flowers. The silver plate on the lid was inscribed "Preston B. Plumb, born October 12, 1837, died Dec. 20, 1891."

The senate met at noon. The seat of the late Senator Plumb was draped in black and the chaplain in his prayer referred feelingly to the death of the senator from Kansas. The minutes of the last session were dispensed with and Mr. Peffer in a voice shaken by emotion announced the death of his colleague and spoke briefly in eulogy of the deceased.

He said at the proper time he would ask the senate to name a day when tribute might be paid in an appropriate manner to the late seator. He asked the adoption of resolutions which were read expressing the grief of the senate and appointing the committee to act with the house committee in arranging the funeral and accompanying the body to Kansas. The resolutions were unanimously adopted and the secretary was authorized to pay the exenses of the funeral out of the contingent fund.

The vice-president appointed Messrs. Peffer, Dolph, Ransom, Paddock and Palmer as the committee referred to.

On motion of Mr. Sherman the senate took a recess until 1 p. m. At that hour the democratic and republican senators took seats on extra chairs on the republican side and the president and cabinet and members of the supreme court took seats on settees arranged in front of the ordinary desks.

At 1:20 p. m. the members of the house arrived, led by Speaker Crisp, and took seats on the democratic side.

A moment later the diplomatic corps entered and took places assigned them. All were in black except the Chinese minister, who wore dark blue.

President Harrison entered on Secretary Blaine's arm and accompanied by Messrs. Rusk, Wanamaker, Spaulding, Grant, Soley, Taft, Chandler, representing the various departments, and Private Secretary Halford.

At 1:40 the funeral cortege entered, the chaplain of the senate reading the burial service beginning "I am the resurrection and the life."

The casket was borne by ten members of the capitol police and was placed on a catafalque in front of the clerk's desk. It was covered with flowers.

After proper ceremonies the remains were taken to the train and the sad journey across the country was commenced.

How They Differ.

In make up: Most baking powders contain ammonia or alum. Cleveland's does not; not a particle.

It is made of pure cream of tartar and bi-carbonate of soda, with a little flour to keep the strength, nothing else. Cleveland's is wholesome.

In strength: A rounded spoonful of Cleveland's does better work than a heaping spoonful of any other.

A large saving on a year's bakings. Cleveland's leavens most.

Cleveland's leavens best.

Annual Report of the Sandusky Soldiers' Home.

Columbus, O., Dec. 21.—In the annual report of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home at Sandusky, filed with the governor to-day, the trustees state that intoxication is playing havoc with the inmates.

Saloons are maintained within the one mile limit of the institution in direct violation of the law, and both the moral and physical effect upon the inmates is deplorable. Additional legislation to eradicate the evil is recommended.

The present number of inmates in the institution is 928, which shows a gain of 253 during the year. The per capita cost is $165.69. The statement of the number of cases of sickness this year compared with the last three years shows how widespread is the work of the grim reaper among the veteran soldiers druing their declining years.

In 1889 the number of cases of sickness at the institution was 1,700. In 1890 it was 3,000, and during the last year it was 8,020. The trustees recommend additional facilities. It is at present necessary to refuse admission to many applicants.

NO TRUTH IN THE REPORT.

President Calloway Denies a Telegraphic Item.

The following was sent out from Detroit:

There is a report in circulation among railroad men that the Toledo, Kansas City & St. Louis railroad is preparing to build from Toledo, its eastern terminus, to Detroit. At present its Detroit connections are made by either the Michigan Central or the Lake Shore. Among the best posted people it is said that the T., K. C. & St. L. cannot meet the expenses of such an extension for some years, since the outlay entailed by the change from narrow to broad gauge has drawn heavily upon the road's resources.

President Calloway was seen by a Bee in the matter and said: "No, we have no such plans under advisement at present. We are trying to pay for recent improvements. Such action may be taken by Toledo roads later on, but we are thinking of no such extension now, most assuredly not."

DISAPPEARED.

P. D. Card, of Air Line Junction, Missing.

He Has Been Gone for Over a Week and Nothing Is Known of His Whereabouts — Foul Play Suspected.

The police have on hand a case of mysterious disappearance that is puzzling them, and it is probable that it will develop in foul play.

This morning Mr. Gabriel Helwig reported at the Central station that a tenant of his at Air Line Junction, P. D. Card, had been missing since Friday, the 11th, and his whereabouts are unknown.

Detective Jack Carew was detailed on the case, and at once went to Air Line Junction to investigate, but discovered little.

It seems that the man, P. D. Card, has been conducting a shoe shop on Air Line avenue at the Junction for about seven months and boarding with a Mrs. Benton, who occupied the same building. On the day named Card left the shop, saying that he was going down to the city, and it was supposed at the time that he was going to the bank to make a deposit. He has not since been heard of, and his neighbors fear that he has been foully dealt with.

When Detective Carew went through his effects the only documents of importance found was a mortgage for $250 given by John W. Manley and wife, of Haskins, on a lot in that village. Manley had formerly conducted the shop which Card occupied, and the latter had bought him out.

Card is a man about 50 years old, nearly six feet tall, and weighing about 180 pounds. He is of dark complexion and has a dark moustache. The police are making diligent inquiry for him, and it is probable that something will be soon developed.

John P. Smith, Superintendent of the State Arsenal.

Columbus, O., Dec. 21.—Adjutant General Pocock this evening tendered the appointment of superintendent of the state arsenal and chief book-keeper of the department to Hon. John P. Smith of Ashland county.

The appointment was accepted. Mr. Smith is a hustling young republican, and has twice been selected to conduct his party's campaign in Ashland county. He is still chairman of the republican county executive committee. Mr. Smith's appointment is regarded as a proper recognition of the younger element of republicanism.

George Boissard is up from Toledo, to get warm, so he says. He says they haven't had enough gas down there for the last three days to light a cigar.—Bowling Green Sentinel. George must be very cold-blooded, since Toledo does not need gas at all these days. Florida weather is being enjoyed.

Sheriff Burgoyne, of Bryan, stopped over in the city this morning on his way to Columbus. He had with him five prisoners for the penitentiary who were lodged for safe keeping at the central police station for a few hours. The prisoners were Charles Smith, William Hardy, William Marks, John Sheehy and Fred Limpert.

SOME SPICY CURRENT TOPICS

Of Local and Neighborhood Interest.

Notes and Comments on Incidents Occurring Daily—Prepared for Readers Who are Hustled for Time.

A BEAUTIFUL PAPER.

Without exception the issue of the Sunday Journal yesterday was the handsomest newspaper ever printed in the state. It was a journalistic success which is highly creditable to the enterprising publishers, Messrs. Packard and Tippett.

CHERRY STREET BRIDGE.

Harbor Master Skeldon is having numerous repairs made to the Cherry street bridge. The gearing was badly worn out and is being replaced with new. The draw is also being adjusted. Notwithstanding the close of navigation the bridge has been swung every day until Saturday.

SUES THE WABASH.

Patrick Hefferman sued the Wabash Railroad company in common pleas court to-day to recover $20,000 damages. He alleges in his petition that the company negligently removed some planks covering one of the turn table pits. That on December 10, 1890, he was assisting to turn an engine, and fell into the pit, sustaining serious personal injury.

A VERDICT SET ASIDE.

Judge Pugsley this morning granted a new trial in the case of Patrick Sullivan against the city and set the verdict aside.

It was an action to recover damages for injuries sustained by a fall caused by reason of defective sidewalk on Fitch street. The case was tried last week, and a verdict for the plaintiff returned allowing $4,800 damages.

UNION VETERANS LEAGUE.

An encampment of the Union Veteran League will soon be formed in Toledo. It is intended to have 100 members to start, and there are 85 names on the application. The first qualification is that an applicant for membership must have served three years in active service during the late war. There are many such veterans in Toledo, and the encampment after it has been organized will have no difficulty in adding names to their roster.

FORESTER'S ELECTION.

Court Harmony, No. 7780, A. O. F. of A., have held their election of officers at Turley's hall for the ensuing year, resulting as follows:

W. C. R.—R. H. McCaskey.
S. C. R.—D. L. Blossom.
F. S.—S. Schaffer.
R. S.—H. D. Blanchard.
S. W.—C. Farner.
J. W.—G. W. Starr.
S. B.—L. Krausberger.
J. B.—Wm. Hoffman.

A SONG SERVICE.

The congregation of the Central Congregational church enjoyed Christmas services yesterday at morning and evening services. There was a large attendance. The solos and other music was appropriate to the occasion, and exceedingly well rendered. At both services, Rev. Dr. Bacon talked in his usual interesting and instructive manner, and on the whole the day was one which could not fail to prove profitable to all concerned.

ANOTHER LOOSE WIRE.

The loose electric wire was again on the rampage last evening, but fortunately no fatalities resulted this time. This time the wire was hanging across Cherry street at the Market space and touched the electric street railway trolley wires. D. Monroe, with a companion in his buggy, came driving along and his horse struck the wire. The animal was instantly thrown to the ground and the wire swinging back gave both gentlemen in the buggy a severe shock. Neither men nor horse were seriously injured.

FOR THE DAY NURSERY.

The ladies of the Day Nursery circle, King's Daughters, met at the nursery on Saturday afternoon and transacted a good deal of routine business. It was decided to bring out the comedy, "School," under the direction of Mrs. S. A. Trowbridge, for the benefit of the nursery. The entertainment will be given early in February, and probably at Wheeler's, though that is not yet determined. The next meeting of the circle will be in the nursery rooms, Saturday afternoon, January 2.

COUNCILMANIC BUSINESS.

The board of councilmen meet this evening and have before them a good sized schedule of business. This includes several street improvements, some sewers, and the ordinance fixing the price price of illuminating gas will come up of illuminating gas will come up the board of aldermen.

It is also rumored that some of the councilmen will have a few remarks to make on Mayor Emmick's veto of the street railway ordinance, and it is possible that it will be passed over his disapproval.

MORE BONDS OFFERED.

The council committee on ways and means will meet this evening to consider bids, if any are presented, for the following lot of improvement bonds:

St. Clair street, from Madison to Summit, $21,837.42.

Irving street, Franklin avenue to Collingwood, $13,690.38.

Walbridge avenue, Langdon to Dix, $10,292.52.

MISSES LAW'S CHRISTMAS PARTY

To-morrow afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock the children of the Misses Law's Froebel kindergarten have a Christmas party in their school-room, Central Congregational church, corner Tenth and Adams streets, entrance on Adams. The program has already been printed in the Bee. The entertainment promises to be very enjoyable, and the friends of these teachers and pupils will attend in full force. The "distribution of gifts," with which the party closes is the giving by the little ones of Christmas presents of their own making to their relatives and friends. That to give makes one happier than to receive is part of the Froebel teaching.

BOUND OVER.

John Cowan, arrested for robbing a man in Ford's saloon, East Toledo, as mentioned in Saturday's Bee, had a hearing in police court this morning on a charge of petit larceny. When the evidence was presented, however, the judge bound him over to the common pleas court for larceny from the person, with bail fixed at $500.

SUIT FOR PERSONAL INJURY.

Louis Scheloloski sued the Columbus, Hocking Valley & Toledo Railroad company in common pleas court to-day to recover $5,000 damages for personal injury. The plaintiff says that while in the company's employ unloading iron ore at the river docks a bucket of iron ore fell from a derrick and badly injured him.

TOLEDO, OHIO, DECEMBER 21, 1891.

Party harmony brought about by a go-between like Elkins, is too dangerous to be successful.

Representative Flickinger will have something to say about selling the canals. He knows all about them.

Mr. Griffin has not yet obtained that promised concensus of republican opinion on the senatorial question. Time is growing short.

Shall we have war with Chile? By no means; read over again the brotherly love compacts of the late Pan-American congress.

Mexico has taken the duty off corn in behalf of her starving people. It seems that in all countries but Mr. McKinley's own, a tax on an article does enhance its cost to the consumer.

The Griffin-McGrew deal includes a congressional district for Mr. Griffin. This arrangement cannot be pleasing to Kent Hamilton, who, by helping Foraker, is really raking Griffin chestnuts from the fire.

The week begins with better prospects for Gov. Foraker. It is evident that his friends made progress last week and if they continue to do as well, the next senator from Ohio will not be John Sherman. That is the way it appears now.

Christmas week. The weather does not seem to be just right, but merchants and citizens are in a happy frame of mind and it is evident that old Kris Kringle will make a merry Friday. Welcome the season, the brightest of the year.

Representative Mills is a great democrat, but the democratic party is greater, and the grievances of any one man must not be allowed to stay the advancement of democratic principles. Mr. Mills and Speaker Crisp should kiss and make up.

The time draws near when President Harrison by virtue of unwarranted power conferred upon him by a republican congress will begin to pull the strings on our foreign trade. The Secretary of State will stand by and say "Yank this one because," etc., and the president will yank, except he dares to disobey. What power for mischief in the hands of one man, and that one under control of Blaine, Elkins, Quay, Dudley and men of their ilk.

Eight years the civil service reformers have been striving with the spoils system and less than one-third of the employes of the government are listed under its control. The last report of the civil service commissioners resolved, in due form, that President Harrison had flagrantly broken his pledge to them and given over the appointments to the spoilsmen. The president's message said civil service reform was advancing satisfactorily and recommended a larger appropriation.

The most conservative western newspapers do not approve Senator Dolph's bill providing for the loaning of funds by the United States to states and territories to assist in the work of irrigation of lands. Such a direct ask for money, it is well said, will surely be reported adversely. The plan argued favorably by the irrigation congress was that the government shall grant in trust, upon such conditions as would serve the public interest, to the states and territories needful of irrigation, all lands now a part of the public domain within said states and territories, except mineral lands.

"Will the alliance hold together for a hard fight next fall?"

"No. Men are leaving that party in squads. There may be enough of them left to join in with the democrats and keep up a show of strength, but as a separate organization the alliance in our part of the state will be pretty badly shattered before the congressional election arrives."—Interview with a Nebraska republican.

"Enough of them left to join in with the democrats." That's where they belong and they are coming to realize it. Every measure of relief for the farmers which is consistent and practicable is advocated by the democrat party and in and with that party is their only hope of success.

It puzzles the problem solvers to figure out just what Steve Elkins, he of unsavory fame, in Harrison's cabinet, means for 1892. He is a relative of Blaine and a hand-in-hand partner in speculations that involve governmental aid, and so, "they say," the move indicates a reciprocity agreement between the president and his secretary. Again "they say" that Blaine is playing cunning and roping the president in to make appointments that will turn a portion of his party against him and bring added disgrace upon the closing months of his administration, and that the wily business team of Blaine & Elkins are no longer pulling together. When Blaine is in politics deep laid schemes are always expected.

There is such a thing as being altogether too smart. An instance of this is shown in the letter of Col. Ingersoll to the editor of a Baptist publication in Philadelphia, which runs as follows:

"Dear Sir: I wish you would stop sending me your paper. I have no use for it. I am a practical Baptist myself. I take a bath every morning. My form of Baptism is superior to yours, for I use soap. Yours truly,

"R. G. INGERSOLL."

This is coarse and ungentlemanly and narrow. Just possibly the pompous Bob could learn something from a Baptist newspaper, and to give it place on his reading table would be to practice the sweet heavenly spirit toward all mankind that Mr. Ingersoll breathes out in such rhetorical music when he gets opportunity to read the funeral service over a dead body. Mr. Ingersoll is considerable of a sawdust literary buffoon.

CANADA'S COLONEL.

One Col. G. T. Denison delivered a lecture in Toronto the other evening under auspices of the "Supreme Grand Lodge of the Sons of England." It was a continued shriek against commercial reciprocity with this country as leading to annexation, the dream of Canadian "traitors," who are likened to Brutus' sons, Catiline, and other unpleasant personages of historical infamy. In the classic language of the Empire, which devotes two pages to a report of the lecture, "the gallant colonel literally wipes the floor with the remains" of those who don't believe with him.

In the colonel's own words, "Canadians would rather be loyal limpets than disloyal poltroons." Notwithstanding this assertion, and although Colonel Denison's audience seems to have been with him, although at the close of his address he was "tendered a vote of thanks moved by the bishop and seconded by the mayor of Toronto," the good colonel seems to be haunted by the ghost of a fear that all Canada is not of his opinion, even that events near at hand may prove the majority of Canadians are not jingoists. Hence the shrieks.

Nevertheless, before closing, the colonel begs leave to quote the following, as "indicating the feeling that exists generally among native Canadians:"

Shall the mother that bore us bow the head,
And blush for degenerate sons?
Are the patriot fires gone out and dead?
Ho! brothers, stand to the guns.
Let the flag be nailed to the mast,
Defying the coming blast,
For Canada's sons are true as steel,
Their mettle is muscle and bone,
The Southerner never shall place his heel
On the men of the Northern Zone.

Oh, shall we shatter our ancient name,
And lower our patriot crest,
And leave a heritage dark with shame
To the infant upon the breast?
Nay, nay, and the answer blent
With a chorus is southward sent;
"Ye claim to be free, and so are we;
Let your fellow-freemen alone,
For a Southerner never shall place his heel
On the men of the Northern Zone."

Sakes alive! Canada will never seek reciprocity, much less annexation after this. Our fire-eating colonels are all discounted by the orator of the "Supreme Grand Lodge of the Sons of England." Hereafter if the proud boast is made in the states that New York has her Colonel Shepard the Empire can with equal pride answer, "And Canada has her Col. G. T. Denison."

SENATOR GORMAN.

The Toledo Bee advises the people to keep an eye on Senator Gorman, and says that, in view of the possibility of a declination of renomination by Grover Cleveland, he may become a formidable candidate. And the Bee is right. To-day the Maryland statesman is recognized as a democrat among democrats, and a leader among leaders. His party has not forgotten the unequalled service he rendered his country in saving it from the thraldom of the outrageous force bill. Fighting an almost hopeless fight, meeting with undaunted courage all the overwhelming odds of spoils and a partisan majority, he, by resourceful strategy and magnificent ability, drove the enemy from the field and won himself the distinction of being the greatest parliamentary tactician of the day. Some objection is raised against him because he is from a southern state, but no sectional lines can really circumscribe his greatness. He is an American, and everyone can appreciate and admire his worth.—Portsmouth Times.

And They Do It.

There is nothing to be said about the reduction of wages in one of the leading carpet making establishments of the country except that it is inevitable under present tariff conditions. With the cost of raw material greatly enhanced, and with the domestic market for carpets incapable of any further advance in prices, the manufacturers have no other course but to reduce the wages or go out of the business. It is for this that workingmen are asked to support high duties on wool. —Providence Journal.

TO SET ASIDE THE VERDICT.

Motion in the Syndicate Oil Case—Burt Acquitted — Re-sale of the C., J. & M.

A motion has been filed in the United States district court to have the verdict in the Syndicate oil case set aside. Fourteen causes are cited showing why it should be set aside. It is probable that the motion will be overruled, in which event the case will be appealed to the higher courts.

Burt, the Sylvanian charged with detaining a letter addressed to another party, was acquitted in the United States court Saturday afternoon. Judge Ricks, at the conclusion of the trial, adjourned court until Wednesday morning, when the motion to set aside the verdict in the oil case will be heard.

The central section of the C., J. & M. railroad will be resold in the United States court to-morrow at 3 p. m. It will undoubtedly be bought in by the purchasers of the other section.

CLOSE CALL.

Nearly a Disaster Caused by a Wild Electric Car.

A narrow escape from a terrible disaster occurred yesterday afternoon on St. Clair street. As a Consolidated electric car started down the hill south of Jefferson street, the brake rod snapped and the car went wild. It attained a terrific speed and the street was filled with people and vehicles. A Robison car on Monroe street stopped across the St. Clair street track but the motor man saw the flying car coming turned on all power and his car jumped out of the way just in time to let the wild car pass.

The car slowed up when the level grade was reached and fortunately no one was injured.

PASTORS' UNION.

Election of Officers this Morning—Papers Discussed.

The Pastors' Union met at the First Congregational church parlors this morning at ten o'clock. The election of officers took place and resulted as follows: Rev. J. H. Bethards, president; Rev. E. E. Williams, secretary and treasurer.

The paper was given by Rev. P. P. Pope, the subject of which was, "The relative efficiency of denomination and union missionary work."

An interesting discussion followed, after which a committee on themes was appointed.

The next meeting will be held two weeks from this morning, the paper to be given by Rev. W. H. Sloan, subject, "The ex-priest and his work."

ABOUT PEOPLE.

The Lady Churchill "who is the queen's great favorite," is not Randolph Churchill, for is she an American.

Senator Daniel has been re-elected from Virginia, but with no Malone to fight he will feel with Othello that his occupation's gone.

Kate Field was at one time, it is said, a leader writer on the London Times, and is the only American who ever achieved that sort of distinction.

Major McKinley is supposed to look with undisguised depression upon Gen. Butterworth since his amazing confession that he couldn't find a single pauper laborer in Europe.

Speaker Crisp is said to be a devoted family man. He exchanges daily letters with his wife when they are separated, as now. After the Christmas holidays Mrs. Crisp will come on to Washington, bringing one of her daughters. During the last few weeks the Georgia statesman has had his young son with him at the capital.

MENTIONED ON THE STREETS.

That Saturday's Bee was a hummer, and no mistake.

That it is about time that proposed toboggan slide materialized.

That Toledo suffered more than her share of fatalities last week.

That song services are becoming very popular in Toledo churches.

That the skate market is not the liveliest; prospects are very bright, however.

That many young ladies are earning pocket money this week clerking in the stores.

That the building permit ordinance is more honored in the breach than in the observance.

That University Extension is taking a firmer hold than the most sanguine could have anticipated.

That it would not be a bad idea for coppers to keep a lookout for pickpockets in the crowds this week.

That there are enough buildings projected for next season to keep the contractors in a lively mood.

That it is one of the wonders to witness such weather as Toledo is now enjoying during the Christmas week.

That Dan Miller is on the slate to succeed to Phil Hassenzahl's seat in the council from the First ward.

That Doc Smith will make a pull for guard at the penitentiary should he fail to tree the deputy oil inspectorship.

That the regulation killings have once more begun about the middle grounds, three having occurred since Saturday.

That application will be made at the next session of the pardon board for the release of Will Cook, ex-police clerk, from the O. P.

That the Bee's scoop on Saturday night relative to the sale of the Buckeye brewery was one of those which the boys term "a hair curler."

That the fur will fly on the senatorial question now that those gladiators, Col. Snead and Major Brown, have dipped their pens in ink.

That the fellows who propose to swear off New Year's day are getting all the good they can out of the habits which they expect to eschew at that time.

That "what will I get for the children?" is a problem bothering Toledo parents just now. Read the "ads" in the Bee; it will materially aid in solving the question.

That much satisfaction is expressed at the proposed extensions and improvements to be made during the coming year by the Consolidated and Robison street railway lines.

That the K. P. masquerade at Air Line Junction on Wednesday night is for a laudable purpose, and the members of No. 494 will be delighted to see a packed house on the occasion.

That there will be another bond sale by City Auditor Walker this evening, and the genial official would be pleased to have some enterprising capitalist gather in the issues for a change.

That it would be a great scheme for Ed Pixley's young lady cadets to march in the McKinley inauguration parade. They would paralyze the slow pokes at Columbus. How is it, Ed?

That Mr. W. T. Walker has the best record of any masonic officer in the city, having been treasurer of Sanford L. Collins lodge for nearly 20 years, and Fort Meigs chapter nearly 30.

That there can be no complaint because Gov. Campbell did not appoint Col. Billingslea's successor from Toledo. He had already honored the city in the selection of Hon. Harvey Platt.

That everything would be called square if the necessary beautiful snow would come down in sufficient quantity to allow Kris Kringle and his friends enjoying a sleigh ride, say on Friday.

That the many friends of Major Overman in the city hope he may be able to vindicate himself from the charges under which he now rests. Judgment is suspended pending his explanation.

That it is more than likely the supreme lodge, K. of P., will hold its session next August in some city in Ohio. Kansas City is lagging in the arrangements. Here is a chance for Toledo to spread itself.

That the pupils in some of the rooms of the Stickney avenue school building, under the guidance of the teachers, propose to make some poor homes happy by bringing contributions of presents for distribution. Very good plan.

THEY WANT THEIR PAY.

Mill Hands Who Do Not Thrive Under McKinley Laws.

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 21.—The Saxony mill, owned and operated by the Trenton Woolen company, is in financial trouble, and the outlook is a complete stoppage of business in the near future.

The sum of $5,000 is due to employes, who have asked for the appointment of a receiver, and a note has gone to protest.

The company's liabilities are about $40,000. The failure is attributed to the dullness in the woolen business.

SECRETARY OF WAR ELKINS.

Secretary of War Elkins is a mighty warrior, but most of his battles have been fought for James G. Blaine.—Boston Herald.

Steve Elkins, the new secretary of war, is an old campaigner. He knows full well the strategy of political strife. But as a civil service reformer . . .—Boston Globe.

The appointment of Elkins is a war cloud. It indicates trouble with Chili if we can get it. Steve is not the man to accept a position with nothing more in it than the control of the commissary of a nominal standing army on a peace footing.—St. Louis Republic.

The nomination of Hon. Stephen B. Elkins as secretary of war, which the president sent to the senate yesterday, had been very generally anticipated. Mr. Elkins has had a wide experience in business and political life, but not of a character to give him any special acquaintance with the work of the department for which he is designated.—Boston Journal, Rep.

In regard to Mr. Elkins this much may be said: He is a successful business man and a shrewd, sharp politician. But there have been incidents in his career that have provoked criticism, and his record as a whole is somewhat unsavory. While much may be alleged against him very little can be proved. He will pass muster, therefore, and confirmation by the senate will not be long delayed.—Rochester, Ind., Post-Express.

The appointment of "Steve" Elkins to a place in the cabinet is one that may well make the president hesitate. People will be extremely loath to believe that he would consent to any arrangement having for its object Mr. Elkins' elevation to the cabinet as a condition of Mr. Blaine's abandonment of the presidential field in his behalf. Such compacts are generally very unpopular, as savoring, if not of corruption, at least of a sort of partitioning the United States among a few prominent politicians.—Boston Transcript, Rep.

M. O. WAGGONER'S QUILL

Jabs the Senatorial Situation in Several Vulnerable Places.

To the Editor:—I sincerely trust that no democrat will under any circumstances interfere with the great republican prize fight now going on in our state between the two Buckeye bullies, Sherman and Foraker.

It is "trooly amoozin" to see the vicious attacks made upon each of the principals in this Kilkenny match. What has Foraker done? He has for several years howled himself hoarse during his seasons of swinging the bloody shirt and cussing every man who did not go to the front. And now just because he did not while governor of Ohio give places to the soldiers, many men in the g. o. p. would send him to hadex after years of unremitting mental and physical labor in his eloquent oratorial and acrobatic performances with the bloody shirt; and all this, too, after Gov. James E. Campbell "ballet boxed" him. Then witness the conduct of the Forakerites toward poor old John Sherman, who did not go to the front as a private or a general; he remained home, engaged in the manipulation of corn juice in connection with the revenue legislation, etc., etc., and sat in his seat in the senate and assisted in confirming the republican presidential appointments of all the leading rebels of the south to the fattest places within the gift of the party, even down to the thieving scoundrel, Mosely; and then prior to the last congressional farce wherein Tom Reed was the star, this same John Sherman was the most earnest supporter of that treasonable attempt to pass the infamous Force bill, and with his workers in iniquity did succeed in the passage of the McKinley outrage, and also in the greatest robbery in the most extravagant waste of government funds ever witnessed in this or any other country. So with all the circumstances before us let us coolly and thoughtfully view this awful fight and keep quiet until the sponge is thrown up.

M. O. WAGGONER.

Toledo, Dec. 21.

REUBEN LENT

Goes Into Court to Secure Money Alleged To Be Due Him.

In common pleas court to-day Reuben J. Lent brought action against Charles F. Curtis to recover for improvements on the old Adelphi theater property, on Summit street, made by him while lessee of the same.

In his petition he states that on March 5, 1875, he leased the property of the defendants from date to July 1, 1890, at $1,000 a year for the first five years. The property was vacant at this time and for the remaining period of the lease he was to pay 6 per cent of the appraised value of the premises, including the value of improvements, to be made at the expiration of each five years, the lessee to pay all taxes, assessments, rents, after Jan. 1, 1875, the same to constitute a valid lien in favor of the lessors upon the building and improvements the lessee might make.

When the lease was made the petition avers that it was understood that the plaintiff was to erect a building on the same, to be purchased by the lessors at the expiration of the lease at 70 per cent of the appraised value.

The plaintiff says that he erected a building on the property costing $18,000, and when the same was completed Curtis & Birckhead set up proceedings in common pleas court to establish lien and leasehold interest in the improvements for back rents and unpaid taxes. Decree for the plaintiff was entered and the property sold to James H. Maples, trustee, which he, the plaintiff in this case, has since purchased.

He says that subsequent to his purchase of the property Charles F. Curtis and Peter H. Birckhead, claiming to act by virtue of terms of the lease, obtained possession of the premises under a judgment of restitution rendered by a justice of the peace on Jan. 1, 1882, and have collected all rents and enjoyed the profits from the same ever since.

The plaintiff now claims that by the terms of the lease he became entitled, on July 1, 1890, to 70 per cent of the value of the improvement made by him, which amount to $12,600, less the taxes, rents, etc.

BIG OILER IN OREGON.

Whittesley & Page have struck a rich oil well in Oregon township, about four miles from the city limits. The well was drilled in last July, and ran eight or ten barrels a day up until Saturday, when it was shot.

The result was a surprise to the most sanguine. She ran 50 barrels for several hours, and finally got down to a steady 40-barrel gait, when she was closed down.

The oil men owning land in Oregon feel jubilant and predict plenty of energetic drilling in that section.

UNITED FOR A PURPOSE.

Scheme to Push the Davis Monument Project to Completion.

Washington, Dec. 21.—A conference between the representatives of the Jefferson Davis Monument association and the Southern Press association took place in this city Saturday for the purpose of perfecting arrangements by which the two organizations could work together in raising funds for the erection of the monument to the confederate president.

At the meeting the gentlemen from Richmond asked the co-operation of the Press association, which was readily promised.

It is believed that the funds already collected will be turned over to the Richmond committee.

This will, however, require the action of the association at the general meeting to be held at Birmingham, Ala., in May. The Press association fund already amounts to nearly $1,500, and a much larger amount has been pledged. Mr. Cunningham expects to go to Texas soon, where he will solicit subscriptions.

GRASPED THE GRIP.

Annapolis, Md., Dec. 21.—Over 50 cadets and about 20 officers, being one-fifth of the whole number of cadets and officers, are in the clutches of the grip. Two of the surgeons have the disease.

The medical branch of the academy has its hands full, and the monthly examination was suspended on account of the prevailing epidemic.

BOY SOMNAMBULIST.

Columbus, O., Dec. 21.—William Hicks, an 8-year-old colored boy, en route from Chattanooga to Pittsburg with his mother and three sisters, walked off a Little Miami train as it was nearing this city and, alighting on his head, was instantly killed. The boy was sleeping in a seat, near the car door, and it is thought walked out during a fit of somnambulism.

FISHERIES UNION.

Paris, Dec. 21.—Mr. Le Fabre, one of the Canadian fisheries commissioners, in an interview published in L'Eclair to-day, is quoted as saying that he is certain that Canada will secure a union with Newfoundland on the fisheries question, and that there is no doubt that the imperial government will exercise its authority to assure the triumph of the federal principle.

BOYCOTT ON TOBACCO.

Springfield, O., Dec. 21.—The beautiful village of Yellow Springs, in Greene county, is greatly perturbed over the radical action of the W. C. T. U. of that place. The organization has passed a resolution to boycott all merchants who sell tobacco. The effect has not yet been made known.

INCREASED THE LIMITS.

Vienna, Dec. 21.—At midnight the old boundaries of Vienna were abolished with the result that the city now includes a number of sections which were previously classed as suburbs.

According to the new zollverein commerce regulations duties will be collected on only nine out of 52 articles classed as necessaries of life.

LOUIS ZERGER BURIED.

Tiffin, O., Dec. 21.—Louis Zerger, a 50-year pioneer of Seneca county, was buried from St. Joseph's Catholic church yesterday, aged 85 years. He was the grandfather of 50 children, and the great-grandfather of 20.

PUBLIC TRIALS.

London, Dec. 21.—A dispatch from Santiago to the Times published to-day says that in consequence of the delay in the trial of the persons concerned in the Baltimore incident the Chilian congress will shortly pass measures providing for public trials in place of the old secret Spanish system of procedure.

SOUTHERN BRAZIL.

London, Dec. 21.—A dispatch to the Times from its correspondent at Santiago de Chili says that southern Brazil is still in an unsettled condition. He adds, however, that there is no truth in the statements made to the effect that a state of anarchy prevails there.

Taken in Time to Prevent Probable Crime.

He Claimed to Own the Boston Common,

As Well as Part of the Streets, and He Firmly Requested the Rightful Owners to Speedily Get a Move on Themselves.

Boston, Dec. 21.—Cornelius Crowley, formerly foreman in Okeefe Bros.' bottling factory, Charlestown, called at the residence of George B. Knapp, on Beacon street, yesterday, and notified Mr. Knapp to vacate the premises.

Crowley said he owned all the houses along there and also the common. Mr. Knapp reasoned with the lunatic, and obtained a "stay of proceedings" for 24 hours. Crowley walked away and Mr. Knapp put policemen on his trail.

They found him inspecting the common and by pretending that they wanted to talk over his claim they got him peaceably to the police station. Crowley is six feet four inches tall, and would be a dangerous crank if aroused to violence. He has not been working for a year past, and has been acting strangely for some time. He will be examined by the courts as to his lunacy.

PRIZES FOR PUGS.

New York, Dec. 21.—The Police Gazette is in receipt of the following dispatch from L. R. Fulda, president of the California Athletic club of San Francisco: "The California Athletic club will hold a special meeting on Monday to offer a liberal purse for Jim Corbett and Charley Mitchell to fight for. They will also offer a purse for Joe Choynski and Jim Corbett, or the former and Peter Maher."

TRIED TO HIMSELF.

Fremont, O., Dec. 21.—A carpenter named Ashbaugh made an attempt to take his life in Shrader's triangle saloon. His shots were from a 32-calibre gun and failed to kill. He fled from the saloon immediately and has not been seen since.

FORTY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR.

The particulars of the collapse of the beneficial order whereby several hundred Toledoans were victimized, as published in the Bee last week, was the cause of a run on the Boston broker who offered 40 cents on the dollar for certificates.

The certificates were promptly turned over to the secretary of the organization here, and hopes are entertained that something may be saved from the wreck.

"What will you get for your certificates?" a member was asked this morning.

"Not much, I am afraid," was the despondent response. "The tail will go with the hide, I suppose."

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Reaches us—or should do so—through the ballot-box. This is the medium through which it ought to speak in clarion tones. But there are other means by which the people voice their sentiments, irrespective of politics, concerning matters of vital importance. Successful or unsuccessful are those popular admonitions as they are heard distinctly or faintly. But health, the grand desideratum, appeals to us all. The avenue is only cleared when the obstacles which bar its complete recovery are swept aside. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has for nearly a third of a century occupied the first rank among proprietary remedies for debility, dyspepsia, constipation, disorder of the liver and kidneys, and as an effectual means of conquering and preventing malarial complaints. Since the advent of "la grippe" it has also signalized itself as a cure of the complaint.

Notice to Surveyors.

Toledo, Ohio, Dec. 19, 1891.

To the Auditor Lucas County, Ohio:

Dear Sir: In accordance with a resolution of the county commissioners dated February 24th, 1891, the undersigned took observations to ascertain the declination of the magnetic meridian, and respectfully reports the following result:

Six readings were taken from each of the verniers ("A" and "B") at the north and south ends of the established meridian line, the average of which readings shows a declination of the needle from the true meridian of 32 minutes 30 seconds west of north. Instrument used, a Beckman transit, No. 914.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a correct report of observations of the declination of the magnetic from the true meridian.

Respectfully submitted.

Angier's Petroleum Emulsion

WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES

Dr. M. C. Pissell, Limestone, N. Y., says:

"I find, in wasting diseases, a gain of flesh and strength, and a generally improved condition follows the use of Angier's Petroleum Emulsion. In both incipient and advanced stages of consumption, as in all other Throat and Lung Diseases, I depend upon it to accomplish all that anything can. I have used it with best results in treating Chronic Bronchitis and Pneumonia."

It is far superior to Cod Liver Oil, and totally unlike all other Emulsions. It is doing really more than could be expected of a medicine.

A House Surgeon of a Detroit Hospital says:

"We cheerfully endorse Angier's Petroleum Emulsion as a food and medicine."

Common Pleas Court, Lucas County, Ohio.

James McK. Irvine, Frederick McK. Irvine and Helen McK. Irvine, residing in New York City, State of New York, and Robert M. McK. Irvine, residing in Monroe, Seville county, Utah Territory, will take notice that on the 20th day of November, A. D., 1891, George Schramm filed his petition in the common pleas court of Lucas county, Ohio, case No. 32470, against the above named parties and others, praying for the foreclosure of a mortgage made by Roberta McK. Irvine, on June 27, 1887, to William Watson, on the following real estate, to-wit: That part of the west half (1-2) of the northwest one quarter (1-4) of section twenty (20), town nine (9), south range seven (7) east, lying north of Monroe street, containing forty acres more or less. In Washington township, Lucas county, Ohio, given to secure a note for the part purchase money for said premises; which mortgage was, with the note secured thereby, duly sold, assigned and transferred by said William Watson to said George Schramm, plaintiff; and on which mortgage, and note secured thereby, a balance of $464.10 is due, with interest on the same at six per cent. per annum, payable annually, from June 1st, 1890.

Said parties are required to answer on or before the 16th day of January, 1892, or judgment may be taken against them.

How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever see anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

Nearly every pattern of 5/A Horse Blanket is imitated in color and style. A SPELL OF BLUES.

Say, do you ever get the blues, the reg'lar old stem-winding kind,
When nothing here nor nowheres else is what you want, and you get blind
To every mortal blessing that the Lord has sent you here below,
When all the flowers seem to fade and only weeds and thistles grow?

A man can't tell just why he feels so mighty lonesome like at times,
Why everything is jangled so, and not a thing in nature rhymes.
You're neither sick nor well, a sort of weak and weary half and half,
You don't feel bad enough to cry, and yet you wouldn't dare to laugh.

The birds all seem to sing in some shrill compass not at all their own
And brooks go babbling in a sad and melancholy undertone,
And everything's as miserable as breaking in a new pair shoes,
While pleasure turns her face away from him who has a spell of blues.

The sun may shine and yet you see a gloomy shadow everywhere,
And meadows full of clover all look very lonesome-like and bare.
A sad and misty far-away of sorrow kind of dims the eyes,
You're just chock full of misery and wouldn't have it otherwise.

It isn't very often that I get a spell of feeling bad,
Because to me life is a joy and nearly all my days are glad.
But I have sympathy for those who now and then their sunshine lose,
Who just sit down and bite their thumb and cultivate a spell of blues.

An Augusta (Me.) man recently bought a machine from a Boston firm, and soon had occasion to send for a small spring to replace one that became broken. The spring came along, followed by a bill—2 cents for the spring, 2 cents for the postage, a total of 4 cents. It cost the firm 2 cents for postage to send the bill, the Augusta man paid two cents more in sending the money, and then the Boston concern expended another 2 cents in sending a receipted bill, so that, all told, it cost 6 cents to collect 2.

A blue rose is among the impossibilities. There is a law governing the coloring of flowers, which is simply this: The three colors, red blue and yellow, never appear in the same species of flowers; any two may exist, but never the third. Thus we have the red and yellow roses, but no blue; red and blue verbenas, but no yellow; yellow and blue in the various members of the viola family (as pansies, for instance,) but no red; red and yellow gladioli, but no blue, and so on.

In the year 1848 a crowd of rioters assembled in a provincial town in Austria, and began to whistle and shout and throw stones. All the efforts of the authorities to quell the disturbance were unavailing, as the offenders were deaf alike to threats and entreaties. Then one of the magistrates had the happy idea of sending the poor box round for a collection among the crowd. As soon as the rioters caught sight of the beadle with the collecting box in his hand, they scattered in all directions as if pursued by a mad dog.

What man in his right mind, when he lays in his family supplies, goes to the butcher, the grocer, or the clothier who charges the highest prices? Or if he has butter and eggs, poultry and grain to sell, what man outside of a lunatic asylum would think for a moment of going to market that pays the least price for his products? Why, then, should men in their right mind permit themselves to be forced to commit follies which if voluntarily committed would stamp them as lacking the most ordinary intelligence? Why do they continue to vote for protection?

Certainly it will not be for want of sufficient land that Baron Hirsch's colonization scheme fails, if fail it does, for he has already secured enough territory in the Argentine Republic to constitute a small kingdom. The Baron's scheme is but in its inception yet and nothing can be predicted as to its future. If the Russian Jews, however, can be made to win success as farmers and planters, as pioneer manufacturers and inventors, in short, show that they have the genius of colonization, it will prove at least one popular opinion to be only a fallacy.

They are beginning to have faith in the efficacy of rain-making expedients in upper Burmah, India. Rain has been badly needed there. Awhile ago Lieutenant Filcher was ordered to ascend a hill 1,500 feet high and fire off two heavy charges of gun cotton of thirty and forty pounds each. The sky had been cloudless before, but the explosions were followed by gathering clouds and a copious fall of rain. The people there are convinced that there is abundant rain in upper Burmah if it can only be shaken out.

The young Empress of China, contrary to all traditional customs, is taking a prominent place in public life. Formerly no one was permitted to appear on the road traversed by her majesty under penalty of death. Now the emperor permits his subjects to line the streets when he and his consort travel and to approach them with petitions, to which they listen in the kindest manner. The young empress has commanded the custom of sacrificing human beings in order to propitiate the Goddess of Silk Culture to cease. And she has assisted in planting mulberry trees in the forecourt of the temple where the sacrifices once took place.

A RIP ROARING STORM

Is Due to Cross the Country This Week.

Cold Wave and Possibly a Blizzard in Store.

The Weather for the Next Few Days Given in Detail so That Bee Readers Can be Fully Prepared for it.

(Copyrighted, 1891, by W. T. Foster.)

St. Joseph, Mo., Dec. 21, 1891.—My last letter gave forecasts of the storm wave due to cross the continent from 16th to 20th, and the next storm wave will be due to reach the Alaskan coast not far west of the Columbia river, about December 20. The front of this storm center will cross the Rocky Mountains about the 21st, affecting the weather as far south as northern New Mexico and causing warmer weather further south while the storm is in the Rocky Mountains.

The storm center will enter the western portion of the great central valleys about the 22d, and by the close of the day it will show largely increased energy. Its path will probably be through Colorado toward the southeast followed on the plains and far into Texas by at least a severe cold wave and probably a blizzard.

The continued path of the center of this storm will probably be in the direction of St. Louis or south of that point and it will cross the 91st meridian—about the line of the Mississippi river—about December 23, and on that day or the day following the storm center will become a furious winter storm, while a cold wave,—probably a blizzard will at the same time, develop in the upper Missouri valley.

While the center of this storm is in the middle portions of the great valleys warm weather will be general over Texas and the southern states, with frequent showers of rain in most of the southern states, as the warm wave moves slowly eastward. Not far from the 24th a cool wave will reach Texas and gradually extend southeastward into Florida by the 25th or 29th.

On the 24th the storm center will affect the Ohio valley while the warm wave will be reaching the Atlantic states. At the same time the cold wave will be spreading out over the Missouri and Mississippi valleys above St. Louis.

About the 25th the storm center will reach the Atlantic states and the cold wave will be entering the Ohio valley. At this time the storm wave on the Atlantic coast well be losing energy and as it passes out by way of the mouth of the St. Lawrence valley onto the Atlantic coast about the 26th it will become only a moderate storm.

Severe gales may be expected in the vicinity of the upper lakes about the 23d and 24th, while the storm center is at its greatest force in the middle Mississippi valley.

A large amount of rain and snow will fall in the United States from the effects of this disturbance and the weather of every part of the North American continent will be affected by it. Precipitation will not occur everywhere, but the heat, cold, clouding and clearing weather of the whole continent will be dominated, controlled, by that storm wave.

I have thus given forecasts of this storm wave more in detail than usual because I regard them as of more than usual importance.

No other meteorologist would undertake to give the details of a storm wave as I have in the above, and while readers of these forecasts are watching, ready to criticise any error I may make in reference to it, they should remeber that while my letters are dated later these calculations are necessarily made on December 7, sixteen days before the storm center is due to cross the Mississippi valley.

My readers will also note that I do not undertake to give the exact date that any feature of the weather will reach any given point, but usually use the term "about." By this I mean that the weather event will occur at that place within twenty-four hours of sunset—before or after—on the date mentioned.

This gives the agriculturist and others a long range forecast which, while it is not infallible, is reliable to that extent which has given my weekly letters a circulation of two millions, with at least five millions readers. I claim that not less than four-fifths of my weather forecasts are verified within twenty-four hours before or after the dates I give. The weather bureau of the United States, with all its vast facilities, ought to be almost infallible in its predictions covering twenty-four hours in advance, and the two combined, especially if the electrical theory of weather changes were encouraged and aided by the general government, ought to give to the masses satisfactory forecasts of the weather.

My last storm wave of December will be due to leave the Pacific coast about the 26th, cross the Rocky Mountains about the 27th, cross the great central valleys from 28th and 30th and reach the Atlantic coast about the 31st.

I see nothing remarkable about this storm wave except that all our winter storms will be of more than average force. The cold wave following it will be very severe in extreme northern latitudes, but I am of opinion that it will not penetrate the southern states with any great degree of severity.

I will again repeat that I expect the coldest part of the winter and the most severe winter storms to occur after the first week in January, and that the winter will be more severe in the great central valleys than on the Atlantic coast.

COAL BOATS BURNED.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 21.—The coal towboats Annie Roberts and Coal Valley were burned to the water's edge at the wharf early this morning. Both boats belonged to Horner & Roberts and were valued at $25,000 each. Both are a total loss. The flames originated in the center of the Annie Roberts, but from what cause is not known.

Worth five dollars a bottle, but sold for only one dollar, and guaranteed to benefit or cure, or money refunded—the genuine Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Fraudulent imitations of this medicine are sometimes offered and sold at 50 and 75 cents.

To protect the public from such imposition, the genuine is now sold only through druggists, regularly authorized as agents, and at the uniform and long-established price of $1.00 per bottle, or six bottles for $5.00.

But each bottle of the genuine Golden Medical Discovery carries with it something that makes it the cheapest blood-purifier and liver-invigorator that you can buy. It's the printed guarantee of its makers that, if it fails to benefit or cure you, they'll return the money. You pay only for the good you get, with this and with all of Dr. Pierce's medicines. You pay the one fixed price—but if there's no help, there's no pay. It's "value received, or your money back."

We Can't do it

but are willing to pay for learning how to make as good an article as WOLFF'S ACME BLACKING of cheap material so that a retailer can profitably sell it at 10c.

MRS. GRAHAM'S
Cucumber and Elder Flower Cream

Is not a cosmetic in the sence in which that term is popularly used, but permanently beautifies. It creates a soft, smooth, clear, velvety skin, and by daily use gradually makes the complexion several shades whiter. It is a constant protection from the effects of sun and wind and prevents sunburn and freckles and blackheads will never come while you use it. It cleanses the face far better than soap and water, nourishes and builds up the skin tissues and thus prevents the formation of wrinkles It gives the freshness, clearness and smoothness of skin that you had when a little girl. Every lady, young or old, ought to use it, as it gives a more youthful appearance to any lady and that permanently. It contains no acid, powder or alkali, and is as harmless as dew and as nourishing to the skin as dew is to the flower. Price $1.00. Ask your druggist for it.

SAMPLE BOTTLE mailed free to any lady on receipt of 10 cents in stamps to pay for postage and packing. Lady Agents wanted.

CLOSED ITS SESSION.

The Federation of Labor Has Adjourned.

The Next Meeting to be in Philadelphia.

The Knights of Labor Proposition Acted Upon—Eight Hour Question—Beer Boycott Raised—Doings of the Closing Hours.

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 21.—The American Federation of Labor has adjourned, to meet next year in Philadelphia. At the morning session, W. A. Carney, yesterday elected second vice president, tendered his resignation. It seems he did not get a majority of the whole vote, and the ballot had been illegal. So, to avoid any question, he stepped down and out. Mr. Carney was then unanimously re-elected.

The boycott on Milwaukee beer was raised.

A resolution was adopted that the struggle for an eight-hour day be renewed in 1892, and that some affiliated organization be chosen to make the fight.

"Address to the working people of America—Greetings: The record shows that much time and money have been spent in efforts to secure a peaceful settlement of difficulties between the American Federation of Labor and the Knights of Labor since 1886. Conferences have been held at intervals, and the American Federation of Labor has used every effort to end a useless and wasteful struggle. It has submitted propositions for settling all real or alleged differences, but these were at all times rejected by the Knights of Labor. The trades unions movement of America has neither time nor inclination to deviate from its mission by seeking quarrels with other organizations. Experience proves that the wage earner is the natural and proper guardian of his inherent rights. Hence the trades union becomes the necessary outgrowth of existing conditions in the industrial world. History justifies the trades union movement in its present form, and teaches that present industrial progress can only be achieved by organization on craft lines. It thus becomes imperative that the autonomy of the trade union be carefully guarded and defended.

"The American Federation of Labor is organized to maintain and strengthen the prestige, authority, and autonomy of its affiliated bodies. Any proposition from an organization conducted upon a different plan must be carefully considered as to its bearing upon the component parts of the American Federation of Labor. Each organization attached to the American Federation of Labor is guaranteed freedom from dictation or interference in managing its own affairs. Hence any agreement with another organization, even if satisfactory to the American Federation of Labor, can only come as a recommendation to its affiliated bodies. They are entirely free to adopt or reject it.

"As a proof of the independence and freedom of action obtaining among its affiliated bodies, the American Federation of Labor has never denied their rights to recognize such cards and labels as they may deem proper. Nor can it, under any circumstances, deviate from the policy of allowing self-government to its federated bodies. The platform of the Knights of Labor shows clearly that it was never intended to be other than an educational organization. Thus it can have no legitimate place in the field occupied by trade unions. Wishing, however, to bring to an end any cause for diversion or discord in the ranks of organized labor, we submit the following basis for an amicable adjustment of differences between the American Federation of Labor and the Knights of Labor:

"1. That the Knights of Labor shall revoke and issue no more charters to the local trade assemblies or national trade assemblies.

"2. In return the American Federation of Labor shall revoke and issue no more charters to mixed federation unions.

"3. The American Federation of Labor will recommend to affiliated unions that they urge their members to become members of mixed assemblies of Knights of Labor.

"The acceptance of these conditions will necessarily obviate any future conflict regarding the recognition of labels or relations of expelled or suspended members."

The convention then non-concurred in a proposition that the International union shall issue a charter to a local union without first consulting other affiliated organizations in that locality.

The convention then returned hearty thanks to Birmingham and local unions, and adjourned.

THE NEW CHRIST.

Rev. Dr. Fish Speaks of Him to a Large Congregation

At St. John's M. E. Church—The Panacea for the Correction of Abuses Which Now Exist—A Christ with Sympathy for the Crowd

Nearly every seat was occupied at St. John's M. E. church, on Magnolia street, yesterday morning and evening, to hear Rev. Dr. Fish's discourses on "The New Christ" and "The Fall of Samson." A prelude on Christmas gifts brought to the attention of the congregation the good which might be done for the less favored portion of people in seeking them out and lightening their burdens, giving them the means wherewith to purchase a Christmas dinner, clothing the needy, etc.

For the morning text Dr. Fish took the text found in Ephesians 4:20-21, "But ye have not so learned Christ; if so be that ye have heard Him, and have been taught by Him."

The doctor commenced by saying the world has had many Christs—Buddha, Brahma, Confucius, Mohammed, Zoroaster, Jesus. It is a pertinent question this Christmas time, "Shall there ever be another?"

There have been many religions—Idolatry, Paganism, Shintooism, Taoism, Druidism, Buddhism, Brahmanism, Confucianism, Mohammedanism, Judaism, Christianity. If a new Christ shall come shall he found another, or of all these, is Jesus the survival of the fittest, and his religion the consummation of religious thought?

I come to announce a new Christ this morning. But do not be alarmed. He is not a new person born into the world, but is the old better understood. He is not Jesus in garments of another century, but is a Christ who wears the garb of the mighty living present. He is the real Christ for whom the world still waits, the Christ of the people. A gentleman of this city said to me yesterday, "The source of Abraham Lincoln's power is found in the fact that he was a man of the people, and a friend of the people." So Jesus when he is known as the Christ of the masses, when his church does not hesitate to say to the world "he is your Christ, and has come to help you in all the struggles of life," and when the harrassed and battered ones of the earth shall thus recognize him as the real God helper among men, he will have such influence and power as his own church has little dreamed of.

1. The new Christ, whom I preach, therefore, will give his church a higher grasp of the world's need and her own relation to it. The main idea of the church to-day is that we are to preach to the people, pray for the people, persuade the people, and get the people into the church. It will be like a new revelation to thousands when we once recognize that Christ wants us to help the people; that he always has a tremendous sympathy for the crowd.

2. He will not only seek to save the individual, but will also lay hold of his surroundings and change them so the changed man can remain changed, and prove a loyal subject to his kingdom. The new church of this new Christ will have a warm place in her heart for the worthy poor, and will help them up into better conditions.

3. He will adopt wiser measures for the protection of the weak. Take up the social problem of to-day and how many Christians are there who are not tainted with that old sin of the world that has slain its thousands, the sin of caste. Take up the temperance problem, and how many are there who will sacrifice party that the ball may be made to roll on grandly and crush the power of the rum traffic? About a year ago four men were hanged for killing as many women, and society said "Right," but oh, how many have been killed where no hanging has been done.

4. He will establish better provision for the struggling poor. He will see to it that they have better food, and that their taxes are not so burdensome.

5. The new Christ will demand, in peremptory tones of authority, that there be less selfish greed among the wealthy. He will break down some of the gluttonous syndicates and trusts of this grasping age and give the masses a chance to live and be happy. There are thousands of schemes in our own land that will not stand the test of his scrutiny for an hour when he comes to be known. To be a Christian then will mean infinitely more than going to church and saying prayers.

Here are two of Dr. Fish's illustrations which will show the point he puts to his thoughts. Speaking of the new Christ's love for the poor, he said:: "Do not shrug your shoulders and wrap up in dignity now over all this. I tell you Jesus loves the church that has a warm place in her heart for the poor. Some men talk as if they were made of a little better clay than these toilers of our land. Clay with a good deal of white metal in it. Clay taken out of the great aluminum beds of the earth and thrown upon some great reverberatory furnace and brought out of purer stuff than these black soil fellows that dig in the trenches or handle logs at the docks. But I tell you that Jesus Christ looks below the skin and beyond the dirt out of which one is made, and some of these black soil men will outshine a hundred fold the lustre and polish of these so-called white metal dudes in the kingdom of heaven."

Touching some criticisms that might be offered on this style of preaching the doctor said: "Men may say, preach to our souls, enter the dark chambers where we secretly hide, and call our attention to spiritual and heavenly things; we have fighting enough with the devil during the week, do not bring him up before us now. But I want to say it with tremendous force this Christmas time that I am not preaching to corpses, but to spirits in bodies. The world has had a long ways enough of this mere ghost business, and wants to know what Jesus has for them as they now are, spirits in bodies. Why not? Souls are wonderfully influenced by these very bodies, and it is mighty hard to get a man to see he has a soul at all so long as his body is ignored, and the world is kicking his body, freezing and starving his body while talking a sort of goody good piety to him about his soul."

AUBURNDALE.

One of the Most Active of Toledo's Suburbs.

Auburndale is right in line with many improvements during the past year. This is a manufacturing suburb as well as a glorious place to live. The factories are, most of them, using oil for fuel with great success. The Milburn wagon works, which was built in 1871, has increased its factory from time to time until it is a mammoth affair, having a successful business. Shaw, Kendall & Co. have joined the army at Auburndale during the year and have a fine building and a large number of men, who are turning out an immense stock of castings daily. I. D. Smead would not have a factory at Auburndale if it was not the proper place for one. Mr. Smead has been a successful business man, interested in various industries. The Harris Toy Co. have just had its busiest season, the durability, novelty and beauty of toys made at this factory is wonderful to the observer. The Toledo Metal Wheel Co. is doing a rushing business. The Toledo Cot factory, as well as the Tubular Axle, Oil and Licorice factories have enjoyed prosperity.

Three new churches have been erected during the year. The Monroe Street M. E. church, St. Andrew's Mission and the Fifth Presbyterian, which, although built outside of Auburndale, is the product its enterprising people.

The various stores have had a successful year. H. F. Hastings has remodeled his store and his business is steadily increasing. Frank Lowis' livery stable is in a flourishing condition.

The Y. M. C. A. has erected a convenient building. The ground floors are use for store purposes and the Y. M. C. A. hall is above.

Mr. Fox is building a fine brick block next to the hotel, which will improve the appearance of Monroe street.

The real estate market has been fair, and a large number of houses have been built. Various other improvements have been made during the year. All that Auburndale needs now is annexation.

WHAT THEY ARE GOOD FOR.

Brandreth's Pills are the best medicine known.

First—They are purely vegetable, in fact a medicated food.

Second—The same dose always produces the same effect—other purgatives require increased doses and finally cease acting.

Third—They purify the blood.

Fourth—They invigorate the digestion and cleanse the stomach and bowels.

Fifth—They stimulate the liver and carry off vitiated bile and other depraved secretions.

The first two or three doses tell the story. The skin becomes clear, the eye bright, the mind active, digestion is restored, costiveness cured, the animal vigor is recruited and all decay arrested.

Brandreth's Pills are sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar coated.

VISITED BY FLAMES.

Disastrous Conflagration in a Wood County Town.

The Village of Weston Badly Scorched and Much Valuable Property Destroyed—List of Losses.

Weston, O., Dec. 21.—This place was visited by a disastrous conflagration Saturday night. Losses and insurance are:

Mrs. W. R. North, dwelling house, $800. In the same building were two offices occupied by Solon Davis, civil engineer, and Van Tress & Holley, dentists. The furniture was all saved.

C. L. Powell, business block, loss $500; insurance to cover.

Sanford Baldwin, business block, loss $500; no insurance. He also had another building consumed with no insurance and a loss of $600.

Alex. B. Long had his business block, valued at $800, insured on Friday for $500, so he is a loser of $300.

J. K. Henderson, dry goods and grocery, loss $1,500; insurance, $700.

Geo. Blank, jeweler, loss only by water. Small.

Gingery & Co., produce, everything taken out of building; loss by water, but very small.

A. S. Avery, meat market; loss, $300. No insurance.

Sanford Baldwin, Exchange hotel building, loss $3,000; insurance, $1,500.

S. M. Done, proprietor hotel, loss $500 by water and smoke.

Miss Nettie Pennington, millinery, loss, fully insured.

Ben Inklekofer, business block, restaurant and residence, loss $1,500; insurance, $1,000.

J. D. Conklin, the postmaster, who was located in the Inklekofer block, saved everything. The office has been moved to the Fraker building.

THE STUDENTS WON.

Tiffin, O., Dec. 21.—The fraternity trouble at Heidelberg university has been settled for the present at least. After a long consideration of the matter the faculty decided to indefinitely postpone the proposed expulsion of the 50 students who joined the Greek letter fraternities, and it is generall believed that the case will be brought before the board of regents at their next meeting. The school has adjourned for the holiday vacation.

HE'S A BUSINESS MAN.

Crisp Has His Huge Task Well in Hand.

A Chart of the Work on His Desk.

Latest Gossip From Washington on the All-Important Question of the Make-Up of the Committees.

Washington, Dec. 21.—Speaker Crisp has in his room at his hotel a book containing the name of each representative, the position on the committee which he seeks and the recommendations for and against him. It is in short a chart of the committee situation in its present state.

The speaker has now heard from nearly every member of the house. In some cases the requests were made verbally, in some they were submitted in writing, and in others they reached the speaker indirectly through third parties.

Many of the members, and especially those of experience, have signified their first, second, third, and even fourth preference, so that they are almost certain to be satisfied when the result is known.

There are some gaps in the speaker's chart, caused by the absolute refusal of some members to express any choice, but the instances are few.

With this chart before him the speaker is taking up the list of congressmen alphabetically, and with the knowledge of the committees upon which the re-elected members served last year is endeavoring to frame his committees for the highest good of the democratic party.

It is the general opinion that the speaker will not follow in the line laid down by his predecessors, but will cause a general breaking up of old alignments. Just as soon as the committees are named the speaker will leave the city.

Great interest centers in the composition of the ways and means committee, and speculation is rife. Considerable pressure is being brought to bear upon Speaker Crisp to appoint Representative Andrew of Massachusetts as one of its members instead of Mr. Stevens, who had been practically selected.

As viewed from what information that can be gathered from those nearest Mr. Crisp, Mr. Blount will be placed at the head of the committee on foreign affairs, Mr. O'Ferrall of Virginia, chairman of the elections committee; Mr. Mills, chairman of the interstate and foreign commerce committee, and Mr. Bland, chairman of the committee on coinage, weights and measures.

The judiciary committee will, in all probability, be headed by Mr. Catchings of Mississippi.

FINDLAY WANTS A BOOM.

"Push" is the Motto of Brilliant City People.

Words of Praise for Toledo's Busy Bee.

Bonds to be Issued and More Factories to be Located—Appointment at the Asylum—General News of Interest.

Findlay, O., Dec. 21.—The committee of ten influential citizens in whose hands was the matter of advancing the city's industrial interests, have decided that the proper way is for voters of the city to petition the legislature to allow the city to issue bonds to the amount of $150,000 to be used in inducing new factories to take advantage of Findlay's many advantages for manufacturing.

An effort will also be made by outside capitalists having large and property interests here to raise an additional $100,000 by private subscription for the same purpose. The people of the city are taking great interest in the proposed measure and want to see the city continue to move forward.

Big Fox Hunt.

The farmers of Portage township northwest of the city have the arrangements made for a great day of sport on Saturday, January 2, in the way of a grand fox hunt. The area to be covered includes the entire township, and one of the strict rules is, no dogs or weapons of any kind will be used. The day will end up with a big oyster and game supper in the evening.

Suit Over a Locomotive.

The trial of the case of T. C. Werts, constable, against the Findlay, Fort Wayne & Western Railroad company, for the recovery of a locomotive, came up in Justice Arford's court this morning.

The suit has grown out of a debt owed by one of the former corporations that had control of this property. The present management have a different style of doing business. They believe in the maxim of paying promptly as they go, in every department.

A Great Paper.

Many well deserved compliments were heard on the streets and at Frey's news stand on Saturday evening over the mammoth 24-page holiday edition of the busy Bee, giving a graphic description of the elegant new home of the leading evening daily of this section of the country.

The many pages covered with advertisements plainly showed the live business men of Toledo appreciate the value of the Bee as an advertising medium.

Good Gas Well.

The Buckeye Window Glass company now have an adequate supply of gas for several years to come. They have just drilled in a nice dry well on the Strother addition in the northeast part of the city, that has an output of over 2,000,000 cubic feet per day. The members of the company are proud of their new well.

New Chief Engineer.

N. G. Carney, of this city, through Hon. S. D. Houpt, one of the trustees of the Northwestern Ohio insane asylum at Toledo, has secured the position of chief engineer, and will leave at once to assume the duties of his new position.

He has been the engineer of the Findlay Hydraulic Pressed Brick company for some time past, and is said to be a very competent man for the position.

STOPPED BY THE POLICE.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 21.—The fight between Jim Hall and Bob Ferguson, the stock yard bruiser, Saturday, was stopped at the end of the fourth round, with Ferguson badly battered.

NOTES FROM NORWALK.

The New Postmaster—Interesting General Mention.

Norwalk, O., Dec. 21.—W. B. Woolverton has been recommended by Congressman V. A. Taylor for postmaster of Norwalk.

S. R. Loomis, editor of the Chronicle, went to Washington last week to endeavor to have himself appointed, but he met with poor success.

A Boston broker has been in the city for several days trying to buy up the certificates of the defunct one year order—the Bay State league. He is not meeting with brilliant success. The one hundred and more certificate holders have had all they wanted to do with these bean-eaters and they don't care to "monkey" with them any more.

Mrs. O. G. Carter, of this city, has received news of the death of her sister, Mrs. E. B. Sage, at her home in Cincinnati. Mrs. Sage was the mother of the late Judge Sage, of that city.

A RIVAL FOR CAMBRIDGE.

Scheme For a Fine Archaeological Museum.

The Annual Report Submitted to the Governor—Exhibits for the World's Fair.

Columbus, Dec. 21.—(Special)—The Ohio State Archaeological and Historical society submitted its report to Governor Campbell to-day.

The matter of principal interest in the report is its treatment upon the question of Ohio's exhibit at the world's fair. The report states how the society memorialized the commission for charge of this department of the exhibit and appointed a committee consisting of Messrs. L. N. Bonham, M. C. Read and A. A. Graham, in whose hands the entire affair has been placed.

An appropriation has been agreed upon and plans formulated for the work, which it is expected will begin when the commission meets in February. It is the desire of the society to make a creditable exhibit, and to have it returned after the exposition for the furnishing of a museum here in Columbus.

The state university, which is now erecting a building for its geological collection, has offered to arrange room for the exhibit, and, as the report goes on to stae, "When this is done the famous Museum of Archaeology at Cambridge university, Massachusetts, will be rivaled by one in Ohio."

In the matter of exploration work the report urges an annual appropriation of perhaps $1,000 to enable the society to prosecute investigations by keeping at least one field force at work each summer in the valleys and among the ancient mounds of Ohio, the richest state in the union in its treasures of ancient specimens and lore, the great museums of Europe having been enriched from Ohio's fields.

The financial report shows receipts of $2,056.64, disbursements $1,919.98, balance on hand $196.14.

The general assembly is asked to double the $3,000 appropriation asked for, as more money will be needed to give the state proper display and subsequent museum collection.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Current for Produce and Other Articles

The Markets.

London wheat market opening steady and firmly held. Corn quiet, firm. Liverpool wheat firm on light demand. Corn shade better.

The receipts of wheat at seven principal western points to-day are 391,215 bu., compared with 584,558 bu on the same day last year.

Shipments of wheat from India last week equaled 1,120,000 bu. Previous week, 960,000 bu. From April 1, the commencement of the crop year, to December 19, 45,098,000 bu, compared with 20,580,000 bu in the corresponding period in 1890.

New York Produce Exchange Weekly says: The wheat on passage from India, December 1, estimated by Beerbohm at 3,944,000 bu., including 3,376,000 bu. to the United Kingdom and 568,000 bu. to the continent. One year ago the quantity afloat from India was 2,664,000 bu., comprising 1,920,000 bu. for the United Kingdom and 744,000 bu. for the continent.

The latest reports from India say that crop prospects are generally favorable, and there has been an increase in the wheat area. The markets were quiet and dearer.

Bradstreet's Report of Exports.—Total stock of available wheat in store out of farmers' hands east of the Rocky mountains aggregated 63,291,706 bu Dec. 12, or 962,854 bu more than were so held on Dec. 5, one week before. On the Pacific coast available stocks of wheat aggregated 10,103,750 bu last Saturday, as contrasted with 10,619,923 bu one week before, showing a decrease amounting to 516,173 bu. This, with the gain of 962,854 bu at the east, compares with exhibits for like weeks last year as shown in the subjoined table.

Twelve United States ports exported the equivalent of 5,495,000 bu of wheat this week, against 6,033,000 bu last week, and as compared with 2,171,000 bu and 2,872,000 bu respectively in like weeks of December, 1890 and 1889. The moderate increase of domestic available wheat stocks last week is largely due to the blockade at Buffalo with a resulting omission of some of the available from the count.

At a meeting Friday of the freight committee of the Chicago and Ohio River Traffic association the question of absorbing switching charges in Chicago was considered. It was decided to allow each road to follow its own inclination in the matter.—Chicago Bulletin.

The New York Financial Chronicle reports the net earnings of the leading railroads for October increased 8.70 per cent., for September 7.46 per cent. and 4.92 per cent. for August. Gross earnings of 29 roads for second week in December increased 11.08 per cent., and 87 roads for first week increased 8.35 per cent.

Business failures in the United States and Canada for the week were 335, against 329 the previous week, and 404 for the corresponding week in 1890.

And now the cable announces that Russia is already buying wheat in Roumania.

A large fleet of canal boats has been towed from New York to Baltimore for the purpose of lightering grain from elevators to ships, and thus accelerate their loading. When the Erie canal closes Baltimore seems to get a large clinch on export business.

Germany.

The treaty between America and Germany, by which the import duty on grain was reduced about 10c per bu, has been ratified by the German reichstag by a vote of 243 to 48. The world is moving, and ere long food will be purchased where it can be most cheaply produced, without being loaded with import duty.

The receipts of wheat to-day at seven principal western points are 406,757 bus. in excess of the corresponding Monday in 1890.

The export clearances Saturday at four Atlantic port were 218,441 bus. of wheat and flour to an aggregate—without Philadelphia—270,000 bus. The export of corn was 166,986 bus. and of oats 91,121 bus.

English markets as reported herein are steadier and held higher for both wheat and corn.

The Price of Wheat.

Liverpool values of late have declined in greater ratio than on this side. Eight and five pence in Liverpool represents $1 21 1-4 per bus. At that price wheat can hardly be sent there from Toledo by rail or ocean freight and pay the other expenses. That is one prime reason for present dullness. The stocks abroad and the dullness abroad furnish little encouragement for a bull campaign before January 1. But after that we expect that American dealers will take the position that we have wheat for sale that is wanted in about all the countries of the old world and that they can have it if they will pay a fair price for it. In other words, America will commence the management and control of the situation, and she can do it.

The Winter Wheat Plant.

There has been some vibration in temperature in the past two weeks which has excited some comment. Enquiry and some observation fail to discover any adverse effect in the northern part of the wheat belt, and we do not believe the plant has suffered anywhere worth noting.

Markets To-day.

There is nothing specially exciting on the wires to-day. The Old World markets exhibit a tone of firmness which was not characteristic of them last week. It may not indicate a general hardening of the markets, which would be considered unusual just before the holidays, but if we get a little more of it dealers will take on more courage to buy.

Liverpool closed steady to a shade higher on wheat; corn a shade higher. Berlin about 1c higher on wheat, and Paris 1-2c higher.

The visible supply of wheat increased last week 1,060,000 bu; corn, 851,000 bu; oats decreased 583,000 bu.

American markets have been weak all day for wheat and corn and close lower.

In New York December wheat closed 3-8c and May 3-8c lower. December corn 3 1-4c lower, and May 1-8c. December oats 1-8c lower.

In Chicago December wheat closed 7-8c and May 3-4c lower. December corn 2 1-2c and May 1-8c lower. December oats 5-8c lower.

In Toledo the trading in wheat futures has been quite light and what business was reported was for May delivery. It has been a decidedly dull and listless market all day without a redeeming feature. The market for May opened 3-8c lower at $1 02 and after selling off 1-8c closed at $1 02.

Cash wheat developed a little demand at 1-2c to 3-4c below Saturday's closing. No. 2 soft sold at 96 1-4c to 96c, and closed with sellers at that. Nothing reported in other grades.

Corn was more active. No. 2 sold at 43c, January at 43c No. 3 at 41 1-2c to 41c. No. 4 at 38c. No. 3 yellow at 42c. No. 2 white at 43 1-2c. Oats—No. 2 white at 31c. Rye—No. 2 at 91 1-2c. No. 3 at 88c.

Clover Seed was about steady with limited trading. Prime for cash at $5 45. No. 2 at $5 30.

VOORHEES WILL FIGHT IT.

Woods an Improper Man for the Bench.

The Confirmation of His Nomination Will Be Bitterly Opposed in the United States Senate.

Washington, Dec. 21.—Senator Voorhees, who will undoubtedly take the lead in the senate in opposing the confirmation of Judge Woods, of Indiana, for one of the new circuit judgeships, is out in an interview in which he states very fully his reasons for making a fight against confirmation.

"I am surprised," Senator Voorhees said, "at the selection of the president in this particular instance. As a rule his appointments have been good, but in this one exception he has failed miserably.

"You could not find, I think, a democrat who would vote for his confirmation if you searched for him with a microscope. I know my views in this matter and those of Senator Turpie, and inasmuch as the appointee comes from our own state, I am confident the democratic senators will heed the facts we can bring before them, if that should be necessary.

"Every democrat and every republican who knows anything about the politics of the country knows about the charges that were brought against Judge Woods. The record of Judge Woods I know by heart, and I am free to say that he is a man totally unfit for any judicial position.

"Had the president taken such a man from Indiana as he did from Ohio, he would have reflected credit upon the state. In Judge Taft the president made an excellent selection. He is a young man in years, of good blood and good brain, with a long and useful career before him, a career that will terminate, perhaps, on the bench of the supreme court of the United States.

"Such a selection must be endorsed and commended by every man all over the country, and by the same token the selection of a man like Judge Woods must be as unqualifiedly condemned. I do not pretend to know what the republicans will do, but I am confident the democrats will not submit to the confirmation without a vigorous protest."

Judge Woods presided in the so-called conspiracy cases at Indianapolis in 1888, and subsequently disposed of the charge against Mr. Dudley in which the blocks-of-five sensation figured.

After reviewing the case in detail Senator Voorhees said: "I remember a scene in connection with this case in which Judge Claypool to his face and in his teeth told Judge Woods he had disgraced the judicial robes he wore, disgraced his manhood, and falsified his firm convictions of the law.

"This is the man who has been nominated for a high place on the circuit bench of the federal courts, and the Senate of the United States is called upon to confirm his nomination. I repat in all candor, appreciating fully the importance of the words, that, in my opinion, Judge Woods is not a fit man for the place, and for one I will never vote to confirm him, and there are many others who think the same way."

Chicago, Dec. 21.—The Times says: Judge Gresham is said to be disgusted with the selection of Judge Woods as a circuit judge, and the gossips say that if the nomination is confirmed Gresham may resign. It is claimed that President Harrison's action is looked upon as a personal insult to Gresham.

FROM AN OUTSIDER.

A Tribute to the Hotel Industry of Toledo.

To the Editor: As a visitor in your city for the past few weeks it has been my privilege to be a guest in the "Young Ladies' home," located at No. 233 Superior street. And the days I have spent here are destined to establish themselves in my memory as a season of pleasant events. As I am about to take my departure I am loth to leave without showing some manifestation to the public of my appreciation for such a home and also express the interest I feel in its future welfare. The home is for the benefit and assistance of cultured young women who are endeavoring in various ways to become self-supporting.

It is presided over by Mrs. Nash, one of Toledo's gentlewomen, and to her the credit of its success is due. One feels at once the refining influence with which she surrounds the atmosphere of this worthy establishment, giving to it as well a homelike feeling of restfulness and content. Her ever-cheering smile and word of welcome to all make one feel that indeed 'tis good to be here. The home with its many comforts and increasing patronage is not near ample enough to accommodate all those who seek admission. The best accommodation, including good, substantial board at the lowest rates, together with its central locality, make it one of the most desirable homes in Toledo—truly a home suited to meet the demands of the ambitious self-supporting woman and assist her in the advancement of her noble mission. Too much praise cannot be spoken in honor of the worthy board of managers. The heart-felt interest they have shown in this good cause and continue to show is worthy of appreciation of the entire public and should evoke the needed assistance from some wealthy citizen of Toledo who can afford to be generous enough to open his heart and purse and bestow the liberal sum of money necessary to the erection of a more commodious home to be continued in the interest of this excellent cause.

ALL IS PEACE IN CHILI.

The Esmeralda to Come to the Naval Display

Which Will Open the World's Fair Proceedings.

Secretary Blaine Has Informed the Chilian Officials that He Sees No Cause for Any Serious Trouble Between the Countries.

Chicago, Dec. 21.—A Valparaiso dispatch to the Tribune says: It now appears that the greater number of the letters which have been appearing in the London Times dispatches displaying so bitter a tone towards the United States government and its representatives were written by a woman, and not by the boastful Thompson.

Their real author, it seems, was the Lady Jordan, the wife of Deputy Jordan at Santiago, and they were forwarded to Lisbon, whence they were sent to the Times. And yet during all that time Thompson was claiming that they were his effusions.

A few days ago the British minister, Mr. Kennedy, received a business visit from Minister Egan. This reaching Thompson's ears, he wrote a letter to Mr. Kennedy inquiring what right Mr. Egan had to visit him, and by what right he was permitted to enter the British legation.

Mr. Kennedy sent a reply to this impudent letter asking in no measured terms what right Thompson had to designate the British legation's visitors. Thereupon Thompson apologized for his impudence.

The Chilian government has paid the Swedish minister £6,000 for the loss of the bark Arno, which was lost in Valparaiso bay owing to the refusal of the Balmacedist officials to clear it before the gale appeared.

A message was received by the Chilian government yesterday in which it was stated that Secretary Blaine has assured Minister Pedro Montt, that after a complete investigation of all the matters in dispute between the two countries he was confident an amicable conclusion could be arrived at.

Several prominent Chilians here, in speaking of Minister Montt's response to President Harrison's message, say that it was couched in somewhat undiplomatic language, but that in substance it was correct.

It is probable that a new cabinet will be formed after President Montt's inauguration, December 26, when a more diplomatic note will replace Matta's dispatch.

The question of the refugees in the American legation, with few exceptions, cannot be considered by the ministers. The status of the refugees must be determined by the legal tribunals under indictment of congress.

DOES HE WANT TO FIGHT?

Slavin's Arrival Has Revived Pugilistic Gossip.

Interesting News for People Who Love to Hear About One Man Pounding Another.

New York, Dec. 21.—The arrival of Slavin and Mitchell has revived interest in pugilistic affairs.

Slavin, in an interview, says he is willing to make a match with Sullivan, but the affair must be pulled off inside of ten weeks. He cannot make a match for a later date as he has to fight Jackson in London May 30.

As Sullivan has stated that he does not desire a match until the latter part of October or early in November there is hardly a likelihood of the men meeting.

Mitchell, in answer to Jim Corbett's challenge, says he is willing to meet him in a ten round glove contest for a purse at any place in New York city. He will meet Corbett to-day to talk the matter over.

James Wakely, formerly one of John L. Sullivan's backers, has decided to figure no more in any of the Bostonian's pugilistic affairs. His decision, he says, is final, unless Sullivan should speedily change his conduct. Mr. Wakely does not believe, however, that Sullivan will reform.

THEY BURNED HER FEET

In Order to Make Her Give Up Her Gold.

Mansfield, O., Dec. 21.—About 7 o'clock Saturday evening three masked men forced an entrance into the residence of Miss Phoebe Wise, a wealthy maiden lady residing on the outskirts of this city, and bound and gagged her. In order to compel her to divulge where she kept her money they burnt her feet horribly.

She was compelled at the point of a revolver to give up all the money there was in her house, which consisted of only a few dollars, as she keeps a large amount in the bank. A gold watch and chain were also taken.

Miss Wise says that one of the fellows was drunk, and another wore a black beard. From their conversation while ransacking the house she is convinced that they are residents of this city and well acquainted with her circumstances. A vigilant watch is being kept up by the officials, who think they can secure the perpetrators of the inhuman crime. Miss Wise is suffering terribly from her burned feet.

GIGANTIC COTTON MILL.

A Two Million Dollar Enterprise in Chicago.

A Proposition Presented to the Business Men of the Windy City that Will Undoubtedly Meet with Favor.

Chicago, Dec. 21.—If the plans outlined by a man connected with the enterprise are carried out, there will soon be in the suburbs of Chicago a great cotton mill running 50,000 spindles and giving regular employment to upward of 1,000 men, women and children. At present the scheme is represented by a charter and a stock subscription list showing that $25,000 has been pain in.

The name of the company is the Columbia Cotton Mill company, and articles of incorporation were issued at Springfield Saturday. The capital stock is $2,000,000. Of this capital stock only $25,000 has been paid in, as aforesaid, but the incorporators say there will be no trouble in securing $200,000 more, or enough to provide a fund sufficient for the beginning of active operations.

FOUR ACCIDENTS

On the Railroad—Three of Them Prove Fatal.

A number of railroad fatalities took place in this city since Saturday, resulting in three deaths and another man injured.

On Saturday Wm. McClellan, a Lake Shore brakeman, was struck by an engine and badly injured. He was taken to St. Vincent's hospital, and died during Saturday night. His family live in Detroit, and McClellan will be buried in that city.

Another Lake Shore brakeman, named George H. Reed, whose home is at Huntington, Ind., was killed in the yards about 11:30 last night. He was on top of a freight train which was standing still near the Union depot, when part of another train ran into it, shoving the stationary train ahead. Reed fell from the top of the car beneath the wheels, and was cut to pieces. The remains were viewed by the coroner, and will be sent to Huntington to-day.

Charles Burgomaster, a 16-year-old lad, also employed on the Lake Shore, was run over by a train last night and killed.

Lewis Frey, a Lake Shore switchman, was injured by the cars some time Sunday morning in the Lake Shore freight house. He was found beside the track about 6 o'clock Sunday morning, where he had fallen after being pinched between a train and the freight house platform and he had evidently been there some time. The man was taken to his home at 401 Western avenue and died there about 10 o'clock this morning.

FIFTEEN MILLION FEET,

And a Pressure of Four Hundred Pounds.

A Monster Gas Well Drilled in at Muncie, Ind., that Refuses to be Controlled.

Muncie, Ind., Dec. 21.—The largest natural gas well of the state was drilled west of this city Saturday.

The capacity of the well is estimated at 15,000,000 cubic feet and the pressure 400 pounds to the square inch. The well was piped and connection made with the main line but when the gas was turned on the force was so great as to twist a steel pipe two inches in diameter.

Twenty feet of pipe was blown out of the ground. The well is within a few feet of another well that has a capacity of 2,000,000 feet per day.

CHANGED THE RECORDS.

A Matter that will Evidently Have a Hearing in Court.

New York, Dec. 21.—The Herald says that in a suit now pending in relation to the copyright of the encyclopedia Brittanica the fact has come out that the date of filing of sheets of the English edition with the librarian of congress, which was originally April 7, 1888, has been changed to April 6, 1888.

The change was explained by the librarian as due to the discovery that the original entry was wrong. Large money interests are involved in the correctness of the record and the matter will probably lead to much trouble.

STRANGER AND ALONE.

Death of an Adrian Woman in Toledo Under Sad Circumstances.

Coroner Roulet was yesterday called to examine into the death of a lady who is a stranger in the city. Mrs. Mary Nelson, whose home is in Adrian, Mich., arrived in Toledo Friday on her way home from Pittsburg. She went to the boarding house of Mrs. Richardson, 321 Superior street, where she was taken ill, dying last night under somewhat suspicious circumstances. Dr. Roulet viewed the remains and under his direction a post mortem was held by Doctors Root and Early. This disclosed the fact that the woman died as the result of a miscarriage which had taken place some time within two weeks. Her family will be notified of her death.

TWO BROTHERS AT WAR.

An All-Night Siege in a Pennsylvania Town.

Guards Around One Brother's House Open Their Batteries on the Residence of Another Brother.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 21.—A Washington, Pa., special gives the details of an all-night battle Wednesday night between Hugh Curry, a wealthy farmer of Ainwell township, and a number of men in ambush.

Three hundred shots were fired, but fortunately no one was wounded. Curry's house was riddled with bullets, and his terror-stricken family spent the night in the cellar.

Toward morning there was a lull in the battle, and Curry alarmed the village by ringing the bell in the tower. Several friends came to his assistance, and remained with him until daylight.

It has since been learned that Curry's assailants were watchmen who were guarding the property of Marion Curry, whose property adjoins that of his brother Hugh.

It seems that Marion Curry had suffered from incendiary fires in which he has lost thousands of dollars. The first fire was on May 12, and since then he has lost 29 hay stacks, a barn and a stable.

The frequent fires have almost crazed Curry and he has been fearful of his life. Recently he placed guards about the farm to protect it. The guards claim that Hugh Curry fired the first shot, and as he had been annoying them they returned the fire, which resulted in a perfect fusillade for the rest of the night. The two brothers have not been friends for years, and the trouble is looked upon as a family affair.

LAMSON BROS.

WILL NOT OPERATE IN TOLEDO.

The F. & P. M. Removes Its Passenger Trains From the Toledo Terminal.

No more Flint & Pere Marquette trains will run into Toledo.

Quite recently President Newall, of the Lake Shore proposed that the management of the F. & P. M. enter into a contract with the L. S. & M. S. to indemnify the L. S. & M. S. from any liability for accidents or damages incurred by the joint use of the latter's tracks into Toledo.

The F. & P. M. trains have been removed, and the company will schedule trains to make close connections with the Lake Shore at Monroe and the Michigan Central at Detroit.

About two months ago the F. & P. M. discussed the advisability of just such a step, and recent developments have only brought the matter to a head more speedily.

This action on the part of the Lake Shore does not necessarily prevent the F. & P. M. from running trains into Toledo should this be desired on the part of the management. The trains could be run over the Michigan Central tracks from Monroe to Milburn station and from there into the city over the Wheeling & Lake Erie tracks.

THE EARTH IS CAVING IN.

The Whole Surface Cracked and Sinking.

Big Breakers in a Shaky and Toppling Condition—Liable to be Engulfed at Any Moment.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Dec. 21.—The ground in the vicinity of the Gaylor slope at Plymouth began to settle suddenly yesterday and in less than two hours the surface to the extent of two or three acres was broken up and caving in. The big breaker of the mine is very shaky and it may fall at any moment. The engine house, oil house and storage roooms surrounding the breaker are gradually sinking and the machinery is being removed as fast as possible by gangs of men, who work in great danger as the surface may drop and engulf them at any moment.

The house of a miner named Richard Glace, which began to sink late in the afternoon is now in ruins. Glace and his family escaped in safety.

The officials of the mine are unable to account for the sinking. The town is greatly excited.

W. H. MOLLETT, - - 12 Moorgate Street, London, E. C.

All the ordinary (common stock) shares of the company will be allotted to the vendors and others, and none are offered for subscription or sale.

The eight per cent preference shares and £35,000 of the six per cent. debenture bonds are offered to the public for subscription at par, payable twenty-five per cent. thereof on application, and the balance within five days after allotment.

The subscription lists in America will open December 21st at 10 a. m., and close December 28th, 1891, at 3 p. m. Allotments will be made as soon as practicable thereafter. The company reserves the right to reject any or all subscriptions, and to make allotments of less amounts than the amounts applied for. If the whole amount applied for by any applicant be not allotted, the surplus amount paid on deposit will be appropriated toward the sum due on allotment. If no allotment should be made, the deposit will be returned in full.

Prospectuses and subscription forms can be had at the offices of the attorneys and bankers where subscriptions will be received.

The English company will acquire the title to all property, assets and effects of the present prosperous Buckeye Brewing Company, including the good-will and trade-marks of the business. The business has been established for thirty years, and is well and favorably known throughout the state of Ohio.

The progressive character of the business can be judged from the sales of beer during the last five years, which have been as follows:

Year ending August 31:

1886	50,853 Barrels.
1887	56,483 "
1888	61,628 "
1889	63,690 "
1890	63,998 "
1891	(nearly) 74,000 "

The profits likewise show a steady increase year by year. Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co., of London and New York, Chartered Accountants, have examined the books of the Brewery and certify as follows:

44 Gresham Street.
London, E. C., 27th July, 1891.
Buckeye Brewery.

We have examined the books of this Brewery at Toledo Ohio, U. S. A., for the period of four years ending 1st September, 1890, for the purpose of ascertaining the profits earned during that period. The profits, after charging depreciation, but without charging the salary of the president, were as follows:

Year ending August 31:

1888	90,742
1889	113,059
1890	134,285

(Signed)
PRICE, WATERHOUSE & CO.

Taking the net profits of the business to equal about $130,000 there would be an ample surplus after paying the interest on the bonds and the dividend on the preference shares to provide for expenses of management and the dividends on the ordinary (common stock) shares.

1. To pay interest on the debenture bonds would require $26,352
2. To pay dividends of 8 per cent. on preference shares.. 33,184
3. Leaving an estimated surplus per annum of..... 70,464
$130,000

The directors believe that this very large surplus will increase with the development of the business, and that the future profits will enable the company to declare substantial dividends upon its ordinary (common stock) shares, besides affording ample protection to the holders of the cumulative preference shares against any contingencies of business that can be foreseen.

Mr. Dennis Coghlin and Mr. George E. Pomeroy, of Toledo, who, for five years last past, have had the active management and control of the business, and, as such, have built up the trade to its present large dimensions, have agreed to act as managers of the business on behalf of the English company for the period of five years at the salary of $4,000 per annum, as heretofore paid to them, and such further sum as the company may vote them in each year. Mr. Jacobi has also agreed to act as superintendent for the period of three years at the same salary. The directors are, therefore, confident that the business will be conducted with the energy, ability and integrity that has characterized the management in the past, and that the managers will do their utmost to further develop and increase the business for the benefit of the English company.

The business will be acquired by the English company as of the first day of September, 1891, and all profits made since that date will belong to the new company, less interest on the purchase-money.

The vendor, H. W. Easun, has fixed the price to be paid for the premises, property, assets, effects and good-will at the sum of £260,000 sterling with interest.

A contract has been entered into between H. W. Easun, as vendor, and the company, dated London, December 10, 1891. There are various contracts entered into with reference to guaranteeing the subscription of a portion of the present issue, to which the company is not a party. There are also various contracts connected with the brewery as a going concern, which it is impracticable to specify in detail. As some or all of the above contracts and arrangements may come within the category of contracts referred to in the 38th section of the Companies' Acts, 1867, applications for shares will be received only upon the footing that applicants have notice of such contracts and arrangements and waive the specification herein of the dates and names of the parties thereto, and any further information in regard thereto to which they may be entitled under the provisions of the said section or otherwise.

Applications for preference shares and debentures should be made on the accompanying form, and should be forwarded to the company's attorneys or bankers in Toledo, New York or London, accompanied by a remittance for the amount of the deposit, and, if paid by check, then payable to the order of the attorney or bankers to whom the same may be sent.

London, December 15, 1891.

Say Mister give me a plug of JOLLY TAR PLUG TOBACCO. NO MONKEYING

but give me the genuine JOLLY TAR PLUG I've chewed it and when I find a good thing I hang on to it. JOLLY TAR CAN'T be beat.

Notice to Contractors.

Sewer.

Sealed proposals will be received by the undersigned, up to 12 o'clock at noon of Monday,

THE 4TH DAY OF JANUARY, 1892,

for constructing a cylindrical brick sewer two and one-half (2 1-2) feet inside diameter and four-inch shell along the center line of Galena street from the Maumee river to Erie street and along Erie street from Galena street to the alley 125 feet northeast of Galena street and along said alley northeast of Galena street from Erie street to the alley between Chase street and Ontario street, and a sewer two feet inside diameter and four-inch shell along said alley northeast of Galena street from the alley between Chase street and Ontario street to the southeast line of Michigan street.

Said work to be paid for in an assessment upon the lots and lands benefited thereby in proportion to the benefits, payable to the contractor or assigns, one-half in ten days after the confirmation of the assessment and the remainder in one year thereafter, except the cost of that part of the work in street intersections which will be paid in cash within ninety days after the acceptance of the work.

All bids must be written with ink and the price of each item shall be written out in full as well as in figures. Each bid must contain the full name of every person interested in the same. All parties filing bids for the matters specified in this notice, must deposit with the city clerk on each bid the sum of one hundred dollars. All deposits to be in cash or certified check on a bank doing a regular banking business in the city of Toledo, and accompanied by an agreement signed by the bidder and two disinterested persons, guaranteeing that, if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into—otherwise the amount deposited to be forfeited to the city; and in case a contract is entered into, said deposit to remain until the first estimate of work done, (or double the amount of deposit,) is reported to the common council.

Bidders will be required to indorse their names on the outside of the envelope containing their proposal, and what the bid is for, the same to be filed with the city clerk. Bids not filed in accordance with the above requirements will be rejected.

Bidders must specify the time within which they will commence and complete the work after the acceptance of their bid.

Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the city civil engineer.

The council reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

By order of the council.

C. H. DURIAN,
City Clerk.

Notice to Contractors.

Street Turnpiking.

Sealed proposals will be received by the undersigned, up to 12 o'clock at noon of Monday,

THE 4TH DAY OF JANUARY, 1892,

for improving St. Louis street from the center of Starr avenue to the center of French street by turnpiking the central thirty feet thereof and providing the necessary drainage, culverts, etc.

Also, for improving Lane avenue from the center of Smead avenue to the northerly line of Sylvan avenue by turnpiking the central twenty-eight feet thereof and providing the necessary drainage, culverts, etc.

Also, for improving Russell street from the center of Willard street to the center of Raymer street by turnpiking the central thirty feet thereof and providing the necessary drainage, culverts, etc.

The contractor or contractors who shall do the work herein provided for shall be paid for that part of the improvement lying in the street intersections in cash within ninety days after the acceptance of the work, and the remainder of the cost will be paid in an assessment levied upon the abutting property in one installment, after the passage of the assessing ordinance.

All bids must be written with ink and the price of each item shall be written out in full as well as in figures. Each bid must contain the full name of every person interested in the same. All parties filing bids for the matter specified in this notice, must deposit with the city clerk on each bid the sum of ..... dollars. All deposits to be in cash or certified check on a bank doing a regular banking business in the city of Toledo, and accompanied by an agreement signed by the bidder and two disinterested persons, guaranteeing that, if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into—otherwise the amount deposited to be forfeited to the city; and in case a contract is entered into, said deposit to remain until the first estimate of work done, (or double the amount of deposit,) is reported to the common council.

Bidders will be required to indorse their names on the outside of the envelope containing their proposal, and what the bid is for, the same to be filed with the city clerk. Bids not filed in accordance with the above requirements will be rejected.

Bidders must specify the time within which they will commence and complete the work after the acceptance of their bid.

Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the city civil engineer.
